COAL OUTPUT
CREEPS UP TO
59 PER CENTMORE MINES TAKEN
OFF HAZARDOUS
LIST OF 518

Washington, April 11 (AP)—The coal mine administration reported that soft coal production crept up to 59 per cent of normal today with the return to work of 30,000 additional miners.

They had been in the "safety" stoppage which followed the Centralia, Ill., mine explosion.

The CMA said 1,860 mines are now operating, 168 more than on Thursday.

The number of men at work was estimated at 185,648, compared with 155,723 the day before.

Estimated production, calculated on the normal working basis was 1,392,996 tons.

Laxity Reported
The bureau of mines said that 33 additional mines were removed from the government's "hazardous" list of 518 today, bringing the total of mines which have passed inspection to 168.

R. R. Sayers, director of the federal bureau of mines, reported "considerable laxity" in state coal mine safety requirements today and suggested a federal law with "definite police powers."

He also said that a federal inspector "exercised reasonable judgement" in not seeking to close the Centralia (Ill.) coal mine where an explosion snuffed out 111 lives.

In a statement to a senate public lands subcommittee investigating the disaster, Sayers noted that an examination of the Centralia mine by inspector Frank Pers a few days before the March 25 blast disclosed the need for 52 "major and minor" improvements in safety conditions.

Inspections Defended
"The committee may wonder why the federal inspector * * * did not request that the mine be closed because of imminent danger," Sayers said. "I think it important that the committee understand just what, in our judgement, constitutes imminent danger, and just what the inspector included in this case."

"Imminent danger, as we use the term in coal mine inspection work, represents an exceptionally hazardous condition which is in existence and which may in the immediate future result in disaster."

"The conditions at Centralia were very hazardous, and the inspector * * * realized that unless the conditions were changed, there was a likelihood of an explosion in the mine. However, in the normal course of coal mining procedures, there would have been an ample opportunity to make the necessary corrections."

"I want the committee to know that I and my safety inspection division agree that the inspector exercised reasonable judgement."

Sayers was on hand but did not have a chance to read his statement, Senator Cordon (R-Ore), chairman of the subcommittee, said Sayers probably will testify when the hearing resumes Wednesday. A recess was called to await a report on inspection of the Centralia mine following the blast.

A house labor subcommittee, looking into mine safety, meanwhile decided to send members into the field for spot checks at mines.

First Boats

Locks At Soo

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 11 (AP)—The official opening of the upper Great Lakes navigation season was marked at 3:25 p. m. here today when the Cleveland Cliffs Steamship company's Joliet passed through the Sabin locks.

In ceremonies marred only by a light rain, a marine welcoming committee presented the ship's captain, J. M. Campbell, with a clock.

The Joliet, bound for the Algoma Steel corporation at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., with a load of coal, was followed, twenty minutes later by the A. A. Augustus, of the Pioneer Steamship company.

The Augustus will be escorted through to the open water of Whitefish Bay by the car ferry Sainte Marie, as a Coast Guard ice crusher and the cutter Woodrush stood by to lend assistance if necessary.

The Sainte Marie's captain, Mike Bishop, forecast no further navigation troubles in the lower St. Mary's river.

MICHIGAN FLOOD
DANGER ABATESHard Rains Expected
To Miss Downstate
High Water Area

(By The Associated Press.)
Danger of renewed floods by Michigan's swollen rivers and streams abated today.

The United States weather bureau said only showers are in prospect for Michigan over the weekend. A severe storm moving eastward should miss the Lower Peninsula, spokesmen said.

H. W. Wells, U. S. meteorologist in East Lansing, said there is no prospect of any rise of rivers in the state despite general rainfall Thursday.

The rate of fall of water levels has been slowed in some areas, he added, but most of them are steadily receding.

In Grand Rapids, the Grand river, last major flood threat, began falling again today after its decline was interrupted by rain. It reached a reading of 16 feet and was expected to drop another foot by Saturday.

Heavily-damaged Flint watched striking Michigan Bell Telephone Co. workers return to their jobs on an emergency basis following a conference with Gov. Kim Sigler.

Company spokesmen said their return would aid in restoration of normal service within the city but would have little effect on long distance service which will remain curtailed.

Capital Punishment
Revival Is Proposed
By Michigan Solon

Lansing, April 11 (AP)—A bill to restore capital punishment to Michigan after an absence of more than 100 years was introduced in the House today by Rep. Eugene Betz, Monroe Republican.

The bill provides for the execution of persons convicted of first degree murders. Similar bills have been voted down in nearly every legislative session for the last several years.

Under the bill, the courts would be required to review evidence even when guilty pleas were entered and the supreme court would review the testimony before the death sentence is imposed.

Persons under 17 years would be exempted and circumstantial evidence would not be considered sufficient to impose the death sentence.

Wallace Criticism
Of Greek-Turk Aid
Draws Senate Ire

Washington, April 11 (AP)—Angry criticism of Henry A. Wallace, touring critic of President Truman's $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program, arose on Capitol Hill today as the Senate debated the bill without reaching a test vote.

Senator Eastland (D-Miss) declared that Wallace "has attempted to induce the friends and Allies of his country to desert her" and thereby "force us to sail the perilous seas alone."

(In London today, former Vice President Wallace said Britain could save the world from war by refusing to take sides between the United States and Russia. The Truman program is designed to bolster Greece and Turkey against Communism.)

When Eastland said Wallace had been invited to France by Jacques Duclos, leader of the French Communist party, Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) interrupted to declare that other French leaders also had invited Wallace. Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) told reporters:

"I regret that Mr. Wallace has seen fit to go into England and France at this time and make the statements he has made when this grave and serious question is being debated."

"What we need is unity behind our bi-partisan foreign policy, and not disunity. Mr. Wallace makes no contribution to that cause."

Three more Republicans—Senators Lodge (Mass.), Saltonstall (Mass.) and Flanders (VT)—took the Senate floor during the Truman bill. But it made little progress there or in the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The Senate recessed at 5:02 p. m. until noon on Tuesday without reaching a vote on an amendment by Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) to strip the aid to Turkey from the measure. It will take a holiday on Monday for the opening baseball game of the season, which President Truman also will attend.

Johnson's amendment to remove Turkey from the program, leaving only the aid to Greece, is the first by a foe of the bill to reach actual consideration on the floor and may furnish a test when the vote is reached, probably next week. Johnson called the Turkish government "a Fascist military dictatorship" and said the proposed American assistance to that country implies a "military alliance."

Clay, former general solicitor for the B. & O., gave his account to the Senate banking committee yesterday, and Henderson gave his today. Both testified under oath.

Clay had testified that Jesse H. Jones, former head of the RFC, approved what Clay termed the fraudulent proceeding.

Senator Robertson (D-Va.) asked Henderson: "There has been a charge of acquiescence in a fraudulent bankruptcy action. Is that true?"

Henderson replied: "It is not true."

Henderson said Jones "dominated" the RFC-B & O. transactions, that he always had taken an active part in RFC's railroad dealings, and was looked up to by RFC board members as an expert on such matters.

W. W. Sullivan, chief of the RFC's railroad division, likewise said it was not true that the RFC acquiesced in a fraudulent action. Sullivan also labeled as untrue what Robert D. L'Heureux, committee counsel, had presented as "the prima facie case" against RFC.

L'Heureux contended that what he called the "Jones group" gained effective control of the B. & O. In this group he lumped Jones, Henderson, John D. Goodloe, the new RFC chairman, and others.

FAR-REACHING
BILL OUTLAWS
CLOSED SHOPSPOWERS OF UNIONS
TO BE CLIPPED
BY CONGRESS

BY DOUGLAS R. CORNELL
Washington, April 11 (AP)—The House labor committee approved tonight a far-reaching new bill to curb strikes and the powers of unions generally.

The Senate labor committee at the same time adopted a ban on the closed shop in the general measure it has under consideration. Senator Taft (R-Ohio), committee chairman, announced the action after an all day session in which the members went through less than half of the big bill.

The House committee put off until tomorrow morning a single routine vote which will send its bill to the House floor for action next week.

House Measure Stiff
The measure would outlaw the closed shop and, with some exceptions, ban collective bargaining on an industry-wide basis. It would permit the union shop if both employers and employees want it.

The closed shop requires a company to hire only union workers. The union shop lets it hire anyone it pleases, but the new employee must join the union shortly afterward.

Far stiffer than a labor bill now under consideration by the Senate labor committee, the House measure lists a whole new set of labor practices that would be branded "unfair" practices of both employers and employees.

Among other things, it would forbid political contributions by unions, guarantee the employer the right of free speech on labor matters, make unions subject to law suits for violating contracts, take the conciliation service away from the labor department and make it independent, abolish the present National Labor Relations Board and set up a new one confined primarily to holding hearings on charges of unfair labor practices.

Bargaining Limited
An independent administrator would submit cases to the new board and enforce them in the courts, if need be.

A union would be forbidden to bargain for a contract covering an entire industry when the individual companies in it compete with each other. But it would be allowed to seek a contract covering an entire industry in which the individual companies do not compete.

Committee officials said the ban would apply to Lewis and the coal industry on the theory that one mine competes with another. But they said it would not apply to the telephone industry because a telephone company in one section does not compete with that in another.

The intention is to limit bargaining, with few exceptions, to (Continued On Page 12)

DIVERSION FUND
PAYOFF IS NEARState Fiscal Officials
Hand Out $16,704,038
On Census Basis

Lansing, April 11 (AP)—State fiscal officials moved a step closer today toward paying $16,704,038 in sales tax diversion funds to local units of government.

Auditor General Muriel K. Aten said the major legal obstacle to the payments had been settled by agreement among those officials to pay local government on the basis of all sales tax collections after December 5, the effective date of the diversion amendment.

Because sales taxes are collected in one month on the previous month's retail business, there has been some contention that the diversion should include only January collections on December business, or about $12,000,000.

Aten said it was generally agreed that he should be the disbursing officer if his staff was able to handle it along with its regular duties and the payment of the soldiers' bonus.

He said he could not predict when the first payments would be made, except that it would be "soon."

The task of paying money on a census basis to counties for distribution to their local units is not difficult, Aten said, but a compilation must be made before census payments may be made to 5,600 school districts. The municipalities each get one-sixth of the sales tax collections.

Cap Pistols Made
Legal By House

Lansing, April 11 (AP)—Michigan kids will regain the right to shoot off cap pistols if the House of Representatives has its way.

By a vote of 67 to 12, the State representatives passed a bill introduced by Rep. Lewis G. Christman, Ann Arbor Republican, legalizing caps of "one-quarter grain of explosives or less."

The measure was sent to the Senate for its consideration.

Woodward, Okla., April 11 (AP)—The grind of machinery clearing away the rubble today replaced screaming ambulance sirens as Woodward, still mourning 84 dead, turned to rebuilding its tornado-shattered city.

Woodward was hardest hit of the Texas and Oklahoma communities in the path of the storm.

SIGLER STUDIES
PRISON STORIESReports Of Dissension
Heard At Jackson
By Governor

Lansing, April 11 (AP)—Moving to sift reports of dissension at the state prison of southern Michigan, Governor Sigler today asked Garrett Heyns, state corrections director, to make a full report on conditions at the institution early next week.

Heyns told Sigler the prison administration was having trouble with "disloyal elements who don't come to us but are spreading all kinds of stories about the prison. It should be evident that we are in control and should be given a chance to run the prison."

Sigler told Heyns he had been making his own investigation of many rumors concerning the prison and that he wanted to "hear all sides soon."

"I want you to run this place until it is established that you or your organization are incapable of it. So long as you do the right kind of job I'll stand back of you. If it is established to me, you are not, I'll act on that quickly," the governor told Heyns.

He said he had been informed by Heyns that "those removed in a former situation are trying to interfere with the operation of the prison." It was understood he was referring to members of the administration of former Warden Harry H. Jackson, who was removed two years ago.

Declaring he wanted "to find out what these disloyal elements are," Sigler reported that he had been conferring with a Senate committee appointed two years ago to investigate the corrections system.

Twins Arrive With No Fuss, No Doctor;
Wife Gets Supper

Liberty, Mo., April 11 (AP)—The arrival of twins, a big moment in any family, hardly caused a ripple in the routine at the Walter Pearson home—Mrs. Pearson didn't even call a doctor.

When Pearson returned home last night he found his 24-year-old wife, Theda, sitting on the cayed in the living room peeling potatoes for supper. Beside her were the twins, Carolyn Sue, five pounds, and Marilyn Lou, 3½ pounds, born two hours before.

Pearson had expected something unusual when he heard the house, but not this. His young sons had met him with this report:

"We got a lot of little sisters." Mrs. Pearson hadn't expected a child until June.

"I scarcely got to the daybed when—there was the baby," she related today.

"That second baby sure was a surprise!" Pearson called Dr. C. M. Smith of Liberty, who after an examination of the mother and twins, told her: "You did a good job."

Powers To Divide
Japanese Warships

Washington, April 11 (AP)—The United States has informed Britain, Russia and China that 239 Japanese warships of destroyer size or less are available for equal division among the four Allied powers.

Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson announced today that General Douglas MacArthur has advised that 140 of the captured enemy vessels are ready for delivery.

An agreement of the big powers directs that larger warships and submarines be destroyed.

Acheson said the scrapping is proceeding according to plan.

Division of the warships will be made by a drawing in Tokyo by representatives of the four powers at a later date.

More than 50 other persons were killed or died of injuries. Higgins, Texas reported 39 dead; Glazier, Texas, 14, and three were killed in Gage, Okla.

But this city of 5,500 was undaunted by estimates of some citizens it would take five years to rebuild.

Mayor R. A. Bosch estimated 500 houses were uninhabitable and 70 per cent of all homes in the city were damaged or destroyed.

"Most of our people will need help but they don't want charity or government handouts," he emphasized.

Twenty - one large commercial vans carrying tents, cots and blankets to Woodward and other stricken towns in the region have been dispatched from Fort Worth, Tex.

Many heavy machines sent in by the Oklahoma highway department have started clearing Woodward. The rubble is being gathered from the streets, and homes that can be repaired are being patched. Damage is estimated in the millions of dollars.

The surplus Woodward Army air base and local churches and schools are housing some homeless.

Electric service in the south part of Woodward was restored with emergency generators last night and most of the city was expected to have lights tonight.

Two water wells are in operation and water mains are full again.

LIQUOR REVENUE
BOOST OUTLINEDBill To Take State Out
Of Business Promises
Gain Of 15 Million

Lansing, April 11 (AP)—The State and liquor licenses will divide approximately $11,000,000 in special taxes now going to local governments under a bill "to take the State out of the liquor business," Senator Harold D. Tripp, Allean Republican and sponsor of the bill, said today.

Tripp estimated his bill, awaiting debate in the Senate, would increase the cost of liquor to the public $11,000,000 on the basis of sales in the past fiscal year.

The bill would bring in to the State treasury about $3,200,000 more than is now being received by State and local government and about $7,800,000 more to licensed wholesalers and dealers. The State's total gain is estimated at about $15,000,000.

A 60 per cent markup is allowed under the bill, Tripp said, but the State Liquor control commission would not have to take the full markup. He said a lower markup would bring the State the same amount of revenue it now receives and provide the public with liquor at the same total cost.

Tripp said he believed the Senate felt that the bill—even if it does cost more at the start—will be worth it by giving the public the kind and quantity of liquor it wants and removing the State from the liquor business.

The bill, by eliminating the State's large liquor purchasing and merchandising operations, will save at least three-fourths of the State's present $2,500,000 commission budget, Tripp contends.

Chicago Man Lives
In Poverty, Leaves
Hoard Of $150,000

Chicago, April 11 (AP)—August Richter, 79, and his blind sister, Amelia, 89, lived for seven years in virtual poverty in a squalid, junk-filled south side flat, and yesterday August died.

Today authorities found that in an old trunk and a safety deposit box that the Richters had hoarded $76,250 in cash and $72,159 in securities.

Discovery of a savings account of $3,500 in another bank boosted the estimated value of the hoard to more than $150,000.

Amelia Richter, who summoned help, told Detective Thomas Edwards "This is all we have," as she led him to an old trunk in the apartment which was filled with old clothing, boxes and other junk.

In it Detective Edwards found $21,000 in currency and $22,159 in domestic and foreign stocks and bonds. They also found a key to a safety deposit box.

Authorities discovered in the LaSalle National bank box $53,250 in cash and securities valued at $50,000.

UNION TURNS
DOWN A. T. & T.
PEACE OFFERNO AGREEMENT IN LONG DISTANCE
DISPUTE

Washington, April 11 (AP)—John J. Moran, chief of the Long Distance Telephone Workers Union, said tonight a tentative strike-settling agreement is "dead."

Moran made that comment to reporters after the American Telephone and Telegraph company served notice that it will withdraw the proposal if the union fails to accept it by midnight.

The announcement was made by George S. Dring, assistant vice-president of AT&T's long lines division.

Arbitration Rejected
The arbitration proposal received tentative agreement yesterday by the Long Lines Workers' Union, but the policy committee of the National Federation of Telephone Workers rejected it.

The proposal included an offer to arbitrate all union demands involving wages in the long distance phase of the telephone strike negotiations.

"I hope the union will give further consideration of the matter," Dring told newsmen.

"If midnight comes and there is no acceptance of the tentative agreement of the company will be withdrawn."

There was no indication the policy committee was giving further consideration to the proposal. Meantime Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach delayed for the present a reply to a union proposal for top level and public talks with the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

Schwellenbach had promised "an immediate decision" after getting the request from President J. A. Beirne of the National Federation of Telephone Workers.

Conciliators In Huddle
With the up-and-down situation pointing again to gloom, this was the situation on the fifth day of the strike:

1. Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach promised a prompt reply to a union request for top level and public talks with the big American Telephone and Telegraph company.

2. Government conciliators who have been shuttling back and forth between union and management representatives withheld any announcement of plans for further meetings. Instead, they went into a huddle of their own.

3. The policy committee of the 49-union National Federation of Telephone Workers reconvened to study the situation behind closed doors.

"Our union proposed to carry 'our complete story' to President Truman if it cannot get a three-cornered meeting of the department of labor, A. T. and T., officials and its own leaders."

A memorandum to Schwellenbach suggested that representatives of the press and radio attend and said the public should "be apprised of the true state of affairs in the telephone dispute."

A. T. and T. had no immediate comment but, in the past, has clearly preferred that its Bell System subsidiaries deal individually with unions.

Most important of the unions' demands are for a $12 weekly pay raise. Government figures show the workers averaged $41.19 in January.

SENTENCE TWO IN COURT HERE

Blanchette And LaPoint
Violate Probation;
Sent To Prison

In the closing session of the April term of circuit court yesterday Judge Frank A. Bell sentenced two men to terms in state prison at Marquette for violation of their probationary terms.

Those sentenced were: Bernard LaPoint, Gladstone, who was placed on three years probation at the October, 1945, term of circuit court after pleading guilty to a charge of breaking and entering in the night time.

The court found that LaPoint "has been repeatedly drunk; that since he was put upon probation he is a loafer; that he is a bad influence over younger boys in the neighborhood and generally is a vagabond type and refuses to work." Judge Bell sentenced him to a term of 1 to 15 years in prison.

Joseph Blanchette of Escanaba pleaded guilty in the July, 1946, term of court to a charge of disorderly, third offense, and was placed on probation. The court found that Blanchette had violated the terms of his probation by "repeated drunkenness." The probation was revoked and Blanchette was sentenced to prison for one to two years.

The court term ended yesterday and Judge Bell returned to his home in Negaunee, and George H. Gauthier, court reporter, to Marquette.

Rapid River Forest Will Be Dedicated

The Rapid River school forest, located on the Whitefish hill, will be dedicated with appropriate exercises to be held 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, April 16, Paul Bowers, superintendent of the Masonville township schools, announced yesterday. The ceremony will be attended by the Rapid River high school students and faculty. The general public is also cordially invited to be present.

Probate Judge William J. Miller, president of the Masonville township school board, will preside. Wallace Cameron, superintendent of the Gladstone public schools and former head of the Rapid River system, will speak on "The History of the Rapid River School Forest." "School Forests—A National Project" will be the subject of a talk by Roy Skog, extension specialist in forestry of Michigan State College.

Future plans for the Rapid River school forest will be outlined by Robert Lord, president of the sophomore class. Presentation of a forest plaque will be made by Ken Gundersman, director of the "Trees Forever" project of the Escanaba Daily Press. Armour Roberts, president of the Student council, will accept on behalf of the school. The ceremonies will be held at the site of the school forest.

Enlist Young Men As Aviation Cadets

Single young men who are high school graduates and between 18 and 26 can become aviation cadets in the Regular Army under its expanded pilot training program, T-Sgt. James A. McCormick commanding the Escanaba Recruiting Office, announced.

The Army's aviation cadet training, suspended shortly after V-J Day, has been reopened to Regular Army Air Forces enlisted personnel now on active duty in the continental United States. To become eligible under the program, enlistees must sign up in the Air Forces for three years and be provisionally accepted for pilot training by the AAF Examining Board. Once in service, they may apply for the flying training. T-Sgt. McCormick pointed out. Applicants must be able to pass all additional Aviation Cadet qualification examinations and be recommended for pilot training by their commanding officers.

No applicant who has previously graduated, or who has been eliminated from a service flying school for failure, will be eligible for pilot training. T-Sgt. McCormick warned. Training classes will normally begin on March 1, Jul. 1 and October 15 of each year, he said.

For additional information on the many opportunities offered by enlistment in the new Regular Army may be had by calling at

We're Trying to Handle EMERGENCY CALLS

During the Telephone Strike . . .

But we must have your co-operation

Before you attempt to place either a Local or Long Distance call, please stop and ask yourself—

IS IT AN EMERGENCY?

DOES THE CALL INVOLVE: FIRE? POLICE? SICKNESS? INJURY? DEATH? LOSS OF PROPERTY?

If it does, your call is an EMERGENCY call and you have reason to attempt to place it. And our limited forces will do their best to handle it.

If your call does NOT involve an emergency, please do NOT attempt to place it.

With only a few people available to man the switchboards during the strike, we must devote our efforts to EMERGENCY CALLS ONLY. It is necessary for us to answer all signals on the switchboards to determine which are emergency calls. So it is imperative that you limit your calls to EMERGENCY CALLS ONLY.

Even so, there still remains the risk that some emergency calls will go unhandled because we just do not have enough people.

Michigan Bell deeply regrets the need for this urgent appeal for your co-operation. We are still trying to settle the strike. Meanwhile, we are doing our best to handle emergency calls. Please help us . . .

The Judge Speaks Up

JUDGE T. Alan Goldsborough, who levied the $3,500,000 fine on the United Mine Workers for a brazen contempt of court, spoke out frankly and courageously in federal court Thursday when he postponed for two weeks consideration of the $2,800,000 rebate ordered by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court's rebate order stipulated that John L. Lewis and the mine union must drop all plans for a strike in the government-operated mines. Since then the Centralia disaster occurred and Lewis promptly seized the opportunity to at least partially resume the strike in defiance of the court order.

The refund has not been denied but, in effect, Judge Goldsborough gave Lewis two more weeks to prove good faith in obeying the Supreme Court's order.

While Judge Goldsborough acted to force Lewis to drive his coal miners back into the pits, Secretary Krug, testifying before a senate committee, worked at cross purposes to the judge's plan by arguing that Lewis had failed, prior to the Centralia disaster, to shut down mines that union safety committees had found dangerous. Lewis has since ruled that virtually all of the nation's soft coal mines are dangerous and ordered the miners to remain out of those pits.

It is case of going from one extreme to the other, due on one hand by the bullheadedness of John L. Lewis and on the other by the goading of Secretary Krug in a determination to shift all of the responsibility for the Centralia disaster to the union.

Lumber Prices May Drop

The steady rise of lumber prices which developed after the removal of price controls apparently is at an end and there are evidences that a general break in prices may be anticipated within the next several months.

One Milwaukee retail dealer has already announced a reduction of $10 per 1,000 board feet in the price of common lumber and 5 per cent on all millwork. It was the first break in the lumber market in the Milwaukee area since 1939.

Further evidence that the trend is reversing is indicated by the fact that some of the large producers have returned their salesmen to the road. The present situation certainly is not one that could be called a buyer's market, but at least there is genuine cause for hope that the spiraling of lumber prices may be at an end.

Reductions in prices of lumber and other building supplies are particularly desired now as a means of lowering the cost of home construction at a time when the housing shortage is so critical.

Antiquated Government

THERE is much clamor for the streamlining of federal government to relieve the taxpayer's burden, but not enough attention is being given to the need for pruning local government of its many costly duplications of functions.

This is the opinion of Frederick G. Brownell, writing in the current issue of the American magazine. He points out that local governments in the United States employ about 2,500,000 people, which is more than the number of civilians on federal payrolls. Brownell estimates that at least a half million of these jobs are unnecessary. Incidentally, it takes six times as much money to run local governments today as it did a half century ago.

The trouble with much local government today is that it retains the original structure created during the horse and buggy age of American history. Automobiles, telephones and other modern means of communication have greatly shrunken distances, and we no longer need the small townships and counties of a half century ago. For instance, Cedar township in South Dakota had a population of only seven at the last census and Loving county in Texas had only 285 residents.

There is much overlapping of local government. Most states have four layers of local government—county, township, municipality and school district. And there are some that have as many as six, seven, eight and even nine separate levels of tax-leaving authority.

Local government throughout the United States needs drastic overhauling. Already, some communities have made a start in this direction by consolidation of townships and other units of government. The manager system of administration, which has functioned so well in the municipal field, is also being adopted by counties in some states, whose constitutions permits such changes in the interests of efficiency and tax economy. It's a problem that deserves more attention in Michigan.

Gambling Bill Proposed

THE state's financial muddle has brought forth some weird suggestions for solution, among the latest being a proposal to legalize gambling in Michigan and another to increase the license fees for automobile drivers from $1.25 to $3. Fortunately, neither proposal has a chance for passage before the legislature but the fact that they were presented to the lawmakers provides a cue concerning the ineptitude of some of our legislators.

The gambling proposal particularly is vicious legislation. No matter how serious the state's financial predicament is, it does not call for action of this kind. Legalizing gambling in Michigan, as proposed by Rep. Arthur Haufler of Saginaw, would open the door to further disintegration of the public morals and would pave the way for debauchery and the breakup of homes on a scale unprecedented in the state's history.

In offering the proposal to legalize gambling and to tax card games, slot machines and similar gambling devices, Rep. Haufler admitted that the bill had no chance for passage. In the face of this admission, we cannot help but wonder why Haufler chose to divert the legislature's attention from its more pressing problems to consider a proposal as vicious as this one.

Similarly, the bill presented in the senate to increase the driver license fee to $3 was quickly defeated under a flood of senatorial protests. The senators recognized the proposal for what it actually was—a nuisance tax that would bring wide resentment from the estimated two million motorists of Michigan.

Community Recreation

ESCANABA'S summer supervised recreation program will be extensive this year, geared to embrace an increasingly greater percentage of the population, the city recreation department has announced.

In addition to the organized programs at the city playgrounds, the department this year is encouraging the development of backyard play centers for Escanaba children. This phase of the program, of course, is closely tied to the home and can accomplish considerable results with negligible public expense.

Expansion of the city recreation program within reasonable levels will pay off good dividends in increasing community spirit, in making Escanaba a better place in which to live, and in developing better citizenship. It will be a factor in promoting safety by keeping the children off the roads and, of course, it will help to reduce the incidence of juvenile delinquency.

WHAT ABOUT HANDBAG LAW?

(Milwaukee Journal)

Maybe we "need a law." Like motorists who leave their ignition keys in their cars, women place their handbags on vacant seats beside them in theaters, or on counters while they concentrate on shopping. Then, when the handbags are "snatched," the ladies are outraged, indignant or heart-broken.

The legislature is considering measures to fine men who invite automobile thefts by leaving their ignition keys conveniently inserted in the car locks. Maybe it ought to consider a law requiring women to chain their handbags around their waists; or a bill compelling them to deposit the bags in the theater safe when they go to the movies; or a measure specifying that they pass them over to the saleslady while they are examining the nylons, slips or hankies.

However, we suspect that the ladies wouldn't approve, now that their handbags contain everything from a lipstick to the family silverware and can produce anything from a threaded needle to an extra pair of shoes.

USES OF ADVERSITY

(Chicago Daily News)

Commercial aviation has had a chastening experience. Overoptimistic expansion at the end of the war, combined with a series of fatal accidents that frightened away passengers, played havoc with earnings.

W. A. Patterson, president of United Air Lines, known as a conservative figure in the industry, calls this experience "the best investment that air transportation could have made if itself." Management was shaken out of its complacency, made to seek efficiency and economy, and to consider how to get business instead of how to refuse it.

Air transport still has a way to go before it offers the all-weather certainty of surface carriers. But its achievements in its brief history are so stupendous that none may doubt that it has the brains and energy to reach goals as yet undreamed of. A realization that the job is not finished, but lies ahead, is progress.

The North Carolina Legislature has passed a law banning profanity in the county where the University of North Carolina is situated. Most of us, however, will be able to translate the expression "Oh, dash it!"

Is it "hands across the sea" these days—or handouts?

WHAT'S IN A NAME

Albany: On a recent broadcast, Walter Winchell referred repeatedly to the Italian opera tenor Tito Schipa calling him "TIT-uh SHIP-uh." Am I right in believing that this was a mispronunciation?—H. M.

Answer: Yes. The singer's name is correctly pronounced: TEE-toe SKEE-pah. In Italian, sch has the sound of "sk" and never "sh."

From Mrs. S. S. Miami Beach: Our daughter was born on our fourth wedding anniversary. So we gave her the name Aniver Sari. We are wondering if there are any other anniversary children named Aniver Sari.

Deatsville: Does the name Baton Rouge (Louisiana) mean anything? And how is it pronounced?—B. C.

Answer: It is said that in 1700, a party of Frenchmen, in exploring the Mississippi came across an Indian village named Istrouma, meaning "red post." The French translated this as Baton Rouge (red staff).

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—The recent report by the commission on the freedom of the press kicked up the kind of reaction that had been expected. There were those who said, with varying shades of indignation, that the report was superfluous, unnecessary, redundant, excessive, impertinent, irrelevant and just plain useless.

Then there were those who felt it was useful, since it called attention to the trend toward monopoly concentration and control and to other limitations and shortcomings in our press and radio.

They were willing to concede that what we have is not complete perfection and that a little self-criticism and analysis might be a healthy thing.

Still other critics complained that the report was too general and too vague. They said, for example, that it ignored the factor of ever-increasing fixed costs in the newspaper field, which tend to narrow the opportunity for new papers and to limit the choice of present publishers who wish to experiment with new techniques and improve present methods of news presentation.

—THE HUMAN FACTOR—

One omission seems to me more serious than any other. The report failed to talk about the men and women who create our newspapers, nor did it name those who transgress the privilege of freedom. In the last analysis the press will be no better than those who make it.

This fact was pointed up by an anniversary observed this week. It is the 100th anniversary of the birth of Joseph Pulitzer, who left the strong stamp of his personality on American journalism.

Pulitzer began his career in the day when an ambitious young man could get enough together to buy a struggling sheet even in a metropolitan area. That meant thousands of dollars instead of millions as it does today. Given courage and forthrightness, the ambitious young man could make his voice heard.

Those qualities Pulitzer had in overgenerous measure. He believed in the mission of the press. It was not, in that horrible modern word, merely a "property." It was an instrument for progress and betterment—an important bit of leavening in the democratic lump.

Pulitzer had, too, a restless, indomitable curiosity that drove him until the end of his life. This may have been the most important part of the equipment which enabled him to amass wealth and power. Certainly this searching, unceasing curiosity contributed to the mass circulation of his newspapers in St. Louis and New York.

As a wealthy and successful publisher, Pulitzer did not change his point of view. When he stepped down in 1907, seeking distraction from his blindness by constant travel, he said he knew the St. Louis Post-Dispatch would "always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news."

That last should be written in big letters up over every city room. "Never be satisfied with merely printing news." That is the essence of the Pulitzer tradition.

The men and women who create our newspapers must have something of that searching curiosity if we are to have a vigorous press. And they must be encouraged to exercise it rather than, as too often happens, discouraged.

—COUNTRY-CLUB COMPLEX—

In their report, the commission on the freedom of the press quoted William Allen White, another courageous American editor:

"Too often the publisher of an American newspaper has made his money in some other calling than journalism. He is a rich man seeking power and prestige. He has the country-club complex. The business manager of this absentee owner quickly is afflicted with the country-club point of view. Soon the managing editor's wife nags him into it. And they all get the unconscious arrogance of conscious wealth. Therefore it is hard to get a modern American newspaper to go the distance necessary to print all the news about many topics."

Joseph Pulitzer would have said Amen to that. His unceasing attacks on privilege and plunder made him bitter enemies. But he did not care. His fierce spirit scorned the easy triumphs accorded wealth and power.

The ambitious young man who bought a struggling newspaper in St. Louis influenced American life in many ways. The graduate school of journalism of Columbia University is only one of his many benefactions. But the greatest heritage he left is the tradition of a press that is free to go beneath the deceptive surface and come up with the truth.

In the American pronunciation, Baton is not given the French pronunciation "bah-TAW (N)." The name is pronounced: BAT-on ROOZH.

Oakland: Will you explain and pronounce the names Serge and Sergei?—I. S. R.

Answer: Both are forms of the Latin Sergius, name of a famous Roman clan. Sergei is the French form, pronounced: seirzh. Sergei is the Russian pronounced: seirzh-GYAY-ee.

Philadelphia: Please give us the correct pronunciation of Debussy, the composer.—S. J. M.

Answer: The name is difficult for the average American because of the French sound of "u." It is a blend of "oo" and "ee," exactly like the German unlaut "u." To say the second syllable, purse the lips as if to say "boo," but, instead, say "bee," without unpursing the lips. Do not say "bew" to rhyme with "pew." The Colby symbol for the French "u" sound is (E). The composer's full name is: Achille Claude Debussy, pronounced: a-SHEEL klode duh-b (e)-SEE.

THE NEW BOARD—When the Delta county board of supervisors meets in organization session next Tuesday there will be four or more "new" members seated. There may be more, because the Gladstone city commission will meet Monday night and it may change Gladstone's representation on the board of supervisors.

At that organization session the county board will elect a chairman for the ensuing year, who will appoint supervisors to 17 standing committees.

The retiring chairman is Ole J. Thorsen of Wells township, who was defeated for reelection for supervisor of his township. Who the new chairman will be is anybody's guess, but there have been casual meetings among some of the supervisors, and some fence-building for certain possible candidates for the chairmanship.

There is the possibility that Tuesday's session will be "wide open," with many nominations and plenty of voting before a chairman is selected.

OLD PROBLEMS—Although it will be a "new" county board, the problems to be attacked will be the same old ones that have plagued the supervisors for many years.

The voters should not expect that a few new faces on the county board are going to make much difference in solving these old problems—unless there are some new ideas in the minds behind the faces. It must be accepted that there will never be complete agreement on all questions that come before the supervisors, since the supervisors represent different governmental units of the county.

Although complete agreement on certain questions cannot be expected, citizens have the right to expect working agreement on even the most controversial problem. If a working agreement cannot be achieved, the future of government by the people is in a bad way.

PROBLEM NO. 1—One of the principal problems of the new board will be that of equalizing valuations among the cities and townships.

This has been a stumbling block every spring, and for the past two years it has been started by the county board and finished by the state tax commission.

Last fall the county board approved a proposal to have a special committee of the board attack the problem of equalizing valuations in a new way. The special committee, headed by Supervisor Wynand Nieuwenkamp of Gladstone, has studied the valuation figures for each unit as prepared by the assessor, the state tax commission, and the Clemenshaw company. The latter is a firm of private appraisers hired by the county to reappraise taxable property in the townships.

The special committee studied these three sets of figures, and consulted with each township supervisor. Then with the agreement of the supervisor it established a compromise valuation figure for each township. These valuations—on which agreement has already been reached—will be submitted in a report to the county board.

It is the first time that so much thought, study and preparation has been done by the board in an effort to bring about a working agreement on an extremely difficult problem. It should smooth the way for the work of the equalization committee in June.

PROBLEM NO. 2—The difficult problem of equalizing valuations appears to be on the way toward solution. The next most important problem facing the county board is, we believe, that of finances.

Incidentally, valuations and financing go together like fumes and eggs. Taxes are levied on the basis of valuation—low valuations, less revenue; high valuations, more revenue.

The other financing factor is the tax rate for the county. The tax rate for the county and the schools and the townships is set by the county tax allocation commission. This is a commission composed of six men, two of whom represent the county's interest. They are the county treasurer, and the chairman of the county's finance committee.

The county should be well prepared for the coming meetings and hearings to be conducted by the tax allocation commission. The county's budgetary needs—and the need for reducing its $30,000 deficit—should be carefully considered in setting the tax rate for the county.

PROBLEM NO. 3—Probably the third most important problem in county government is the need for a tighter and more efficient administrative system.

Lacking an administrative head, and unable to achieve one until

Q. Will the Veterans Administration guarantee a loan made to me by my uncle, who is a non-supervised lender?

A. Yes, but loans made by non-supervised lenders require prior approval of the Veterans Administration. Your uncle should submit the proposal to the local VA regional office for approval.

Q. When and where will the American Legion hold its 1947 Legion convention?

A. August 1 through September 1 at New York City.

Q. What were "Lucanian Oxen"?

A. Elephants. Until Pyrrhus invaded Rome with elephants, the Romans had never seen elephants. Believing them to be herds from the fertile meadows of Lucania, which was famous for its swine, the Romans called them "Lucanian Oxen."

Q. What nicknames were given Primo Carnera, the Italian boxer?

A. Leaning Tower of Pisa and Tail Tower of Gorgonzola.

Q. Where will the first radar airway be installed?

A. Alaska. Radar navigational beacons, known as "racon" will be installed at seven places, thereby providing radar coverage for the entire Alaskan airways.

Q. How can an adult obtain daily the amount of Vitamin A necessary to maintain good health?

A. By consuming a pint of whole milk, an egg, a third of an ounce of butter and an ordinary serving of green or yellow vegetables.

Q. Did the American Indians set broken bones?

A. Yes. Centuries before Columbus, Indian medicine men, after setting broken bones, reinforced them with splints made of quick-drying clay.

Q. How can bruises be removed from furniture?

A. By wetting the bruised part or parts with warm water. Double a piece of brown paper 5 or 6 times, soak it, and lay it on the bruised spot, then put a hot flat iron on it until the moisture has evaporated. Repeat until the bruise is level with the surface.

Counties are permitted by constitutional amendment to have home rule, the county board must depend upon administrative functioning of committees.

Delta county has 17 standing committees, and two special committees. The smallest number on any committee is three, the largest number is 14.

In the organization of the county board this coming week, there should be consideration given the possibility of reducing the number of committees, and the number of persons serving on them. It has been the experience of state and federal legislative bodies that fewer and smaller committees function better at less cost.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

April 11, 1947

Mrs. Lockwood Fogg, Jr., Wallingford, Pa.
My Dear Sister:

It gave me a big thrill to have the lovely brood of nieces and nephews visit us last week. In fact, I probably enjoyed the sightseeing tours more than their mother, even including the rides on the Senate subway.

I am sorry that they were disappointed in not being able to ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round. Some other people I know would give a lot to avoid such a ride. But I hope you can conceal the truth that the Washington Merry-Go-Round is nothing more than their uncle pounding an old typewriter in a disorderly newspaper office! At last try to conceal it until youth becomes a little more calloused to the disappointments of life.

The sightseeing gave me an excuse to go through the White House again, which I also enjoyed, especially when your three-year-old plunked himself down in the middle of the east room floor and serenely watched the crowds go by. I had not been through the residence part of the White House since Franklin Roosevelt died two years ago this week, and it is a never-ending source of inspiration to me to watch the stream of American history in panorama on the walls of the stately mansion.

I have been especially thinking about these things, not only because of the anniversary of Roosevelt's death, but because President Truman now faces one of the greatest foreign-policy crossroads in our 170 years as a Nation.

Your children, of course, did not realize it, and most of the American public probably doesn't either, but at the very time the kids were viewing the historic rooms of the White House, history was being made in another wing of the mansion—history which will decide whether three-year-old Woody, who sat serenely on the polished east room floor, will have to fight in another war—against Russia.

—FDR'S GREAT MISTAKE—

As I look back on the career of Franklin Roosevelt, I believe his greatest mistake was failure to follow through against the world's aggressors at a time when they could be stopped. I voice this criticism with hesitation because I was a great admirer of Roosevelt's and I have not always been an admirer of Truman's. But I am inclined to think that in this one respect, history may prove Truman greater.

Truman has taken a stand—a stand which requires much courage. And with the help of other fair-minded statesmen such as Senator Vandenberg, he is sticking to it.

Back in 1936-37 FDR was urged to take a stand in the Spanish Civil War. He was urged by none other than the late Senator Borah of Idaho, hitherto an isolationist, who pointed out that Hitler and Mussolini were the real factors behind Franco, that this was a dress rehearsal for world war, and that if the USA showed where it stood then, world war could be prevented later.

I happened to know something about Borah's talk, because it was Bob Allen who arranged for it with FDR. However, Borah wasn't the only one who made this plea to Roosevelt. Justice Ferdinand Pecora of the N. Y. supreme court urged the same thing, and I myself talked with FDR and wrote many columns on the subject.

Although he saw the situation clearly, he would not move. Truman has.

JAPAN COULD HAVE BEEN STOPPED

Even more important, perhaps, was the situation in regard to Japanese aggression. Back in 1931 when the Japs first moved into Manchuria, Henry L. Stimson, then Secretary of State, tried to mobilize the League of Nations and the peace machinery of the nine-power pact to stop Japanese aggression. But Herbert Hoover was lukewarm, and various of our "European friends, especially England, would not support him.

When Roosevelt took office, he was not lukewarm. And in 1937, as the Japs moved into Central China, he saw his opportunity to stop one of the world's most aggressive dictators. At that time, Admiral Leahy, then chief of naval operations, advised that the U. S. Navy, with token help from the British, could create an economic blockade of all Japan—cut off oil, scrap iron, copper, cotton—and starve out the Japanese military machine without losing a single U. S. ship.

Such a move, furthermore, would warn the dictators of Europe exactly what they could expect from the USA when it came to war.

Roosevelt actually started such a policy. He made his historic "Quarantine" speech in Chicago. He sent Norman Davis to Brussels to mobilize the world's peace machinery against Japan. But then, having started this historic course, he got cold feet.

Cordell Hull didn't like it. A lot of politicians claimed it would lose him votes. The Republican isolationists, led by the Chicago Tribune, screamed to high heaven. The British also were skittish.

Roosevelt should not be judged too harshly, because times were different then. Public opinion had not been aroused. It took Pearl Harbor to arouse it. Today the public is much more alert and unified regarding Russia, so Truman's task is easier.

However, if Roosevelt had stuck to his guns regarding Japan, I am convinced—and so are many military strategists—that he could have staved off World War II. By taking a strong stand in 1937, thousands of lives would have been saved five years later.

Recent history is full of similar examples. If the British had backed the French when Hitler moved into the Ruhr in 1936 there is no question but that the German war machine would have crumbled. Dictators can only live on continued victory. One defeat is the beginning of the end for them.

Your Brother, Drew.

Bell's New Restaurant Grand Opening Today

Bell's Restaurant, the successor to Belle's Coffee Shop, will stage a grand opening tomorrow after being closed a week for remodeling and installation of new equipment.

The new establishment has undergone a complete face lifting, from the neon sign to the culinary department. Visitors tomorrow will doubtless be impressed with the modernistic wall designs, the two tone plastic-fabric booths, the limed oak serving counter and back bar. Gleaming new equipment will shine from the soda fountain, the counter and the kitchen.

Responsible for this new asset to Escanaba is Mrs. Inez E. Taylor, the new owner. Mrs. Taylor has lived in Escanaba for eight years, and before that operated a restaurant in Iron River. Her son, Dean Konell, an experienced restaurant man, will serve as manager of the new cafe. Mr. Taylor is a conductor on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad.

Series Of Parties Starting Tonight For Escanaba Elks

Newly-installed officers of Escanaba lodge 354, B. P. O. Elks, will start off their season with a dancing party tonight, first in a series of social events and entertainments to be offered for members. The party tonight, open to members and their ladies, will include dancing to the music of the Four Kings and a Queen orchestra, followed by a buffet lunch.

The entertainment and activities committee of the lodge, appointed this week by R. A. O'Neill following his installation as exalted ruler, will arrange coming activities at the Elks club. Members of the committee are: Claude J. Tobin jr., chairman; Leo Alperovitz, James Frenn, Tom Irish, Nevin Reynolds, F. T. Rooney, Harry Ehnerd, Frank Bink, Henry Huckenpahl, James W. McCrum, Abe Herro and Mike Walch.

St. Nicholas

St. Nicholas, Mich.—Mrs. Arvi Lund and daughter Diana, returned to their home at Perkins from the Pamphill Depuydt home where Mrs. Lund spent ten days recuperating from yellow jaundice.

Mr. and Mrs. George Depuydt of Harris are the parents of a son born Saturday, April 5, at St. Francis hospital. This is the first child in the family. Mrs. Depuydt is the former Mary Gibbs of Perkins, and George is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pamphill Depuydt of this community.

England makes use of about 140,000,000,000 stamps every week.

Mrs. Taylor explained that although she purchased the restaurant in July, 1946, she has been unable to remodel until this month because of shortages.

Among the improvements being completed by a large crew of workmen today are: a flashing bell neon sign, Venetian blinds, flowered draperies on all windows; inlaid rose linoleum; plastic "mugahide" booths in cream and wine colors; tables with rose formica tops with rose and chrometrim, matching booth lights, counter and backbar in limed oak and formica top; neon lighted backbar; new soda fountain; new juke box system.

In the rear of the restaurant is the Rainbow Room, set off in colored lighting and rainbow shades, to be used chiefly for private parties.

A modern gas kitchen has been installed, featuring the new deep fryer, broiler and three unit gas ranges, as well as a 50 cubic foot refrigerator and walk in cooler. New flooring, decorating and much small equipment has been installed in the kitchen.

Five cooks of long experience are included in the staff of employees, which number as high as 35 persons. First cook is Mrs. Elizabeth Byrnes, who has cooked at Belle's for the past 16 years. Other cooks include Mrs. Ida Bawden, Mrs. Eva Brazeau, Mrs. Alice Menard and Mrs. Emma Lemmerand.

Bell's Restaurant will inaugurate new hours tomorrow: open from 6:30 a. m. until 10:30 p. m.

LABOR BOARD'S DUTIES CURBED

Court Bars State Bodies From Acting In Cases In NLRB Authority

BY W. H. MOBLEY
Washington, (P)—The Supreme Court barred State Labor Relations Board Tuesday from acting in cases which fall within the authority of the National Labor Relations Board.

The ruling was narrowed, however, to apply only to cases involving an industry and a question with which the NLRB has concerned itself.

Involved was a New York State Board ruling in favor of unionization of foremen. It was made during a period when the NLRB, as a matter of policy but without renouncing jurisdiction, was declining to certify foremen's unions for bargaining purposes, although it had done so previously and has done so since.

At the time of the New York ruling, the question whether federal law would permit foremen to organize was in controversy. The Supreme Court, in the present term, has upheld the right of foremen to organize in a union of their own. This case involved the Packard Motor Car Co.

Today's 6-3 ruling produced a States' rights argument. The dissenters contended that "any indulgence in construction (of the law) should be in favor of the States, because Congress can speak with drastic clarity whenever it chooses to assure whole Federal authority." Justice Frankfurter, writing the minority opinion, was joined by Justices Murphy and Rutledge.

Library Adventure

By Arnold Mulder

MAYBE YOU think today's newspapers are sometimes rough in their attacks on political opponents. If you have not read the files of American newspapers during the generation immediately following the Revolutionary War, you haven't seen anything. Even the most vitriolic papers of today are flat and innocuous compared with those issued in days of Washington, Jefferson, Hamilton and their generation.

Recently I had occasion to examine the language of some of those papers, in a study of the life and work of Philip Freneau, who is known as the "Poet of the Revolution" and who is generally regarded as our first national poet. Freneau was himself a newspaper man as well as a poet, and the terms he applied to his political opponents could not possibly be published in today's papers, the present libel laws being what they are.

The amazing thing is that people like Freneau—and most of the editors were just as unrestrained as he was—did not land in jail.

Fishing Starts At Grand Marais

Grand Marais, Mich. — Lake fishing began here April 9, when the first boat of the season, the "Delos Smith II" began operations. Defying floating fields of ice which hovered close off shore, the big boat ventured out in Lake Superior and succeeded in setting her nets.

The "Badger", owned by the Endress & Masse Fish Co., is expected to start operating soon.

Mrs. Paul Alt left yesterday for Detroit where she will visit her sister Ila Robinson for a few days. Florida, Cuba and the Bahamas are the three greatest sponge-producing areas in the world.

same radical foe of monarchy he had always been, and as much devoted to the cause of democracy as he had always been. But during the administrations of Washington and John Adams, the American government was far from being democratic. Adams particularly wanted to imitate in America the aristocratic British political and social system; he even tried at one time to have a system of titles adopted in America. And Hamilton fought tooth and nail against the rule of the common people; they were to him the "mob," and power must be kept out of their hands.

When Philip Freneau fought for those same common people with all the unrestrained period in American journalism, he was attacked with a bitterness that seems almost incredible today. With the blessings of Jefferson and Madison, the leaders of the "mob" of that day, he established a paper in Philadelphia that he called the "National Gazette," to offset the influence of a Federalist Philadelphia paper called the "Gazette of the United States." The way those two belabored each other would never be believed today if the files were not there to prove it. We today don't even know what invective is.

Incidentally, the best book on Freneau that I know is "That Rascal Freneau," by Lewis Leary published in 1941.

But when the war had been won and the crisis was past Freneau was not so welcome with the party in power. He remained the

"Kobolds" Take
Hand In Garden
Tools Mischief

BY KATE PERKINS
(P) Newsfeatures
Pound Ridge, N. Y.—Poets who write and sing about the advantages of having elfin sprites in their gardens should talk to me: I've got Kobolds, and they are already busy around the place.

My Kobolds apparently were brought over from their native Germany by the Westphalian couple who built my place and established themselves in the tool-shed, which I strictly call the "root cellar." Kobolds in Germany are blamed for any mischief around. My fey family has become pretty well Americanized in mischief.

I went out to take a look at the garden tools the other day, feeling pretty smug about the way they would be shining and clean and lubricated. I find the Kobolds have invented a type of liquid granite which they have applied to the spading fork, the spade and the hoe and let it harden for months. I distinctly remember leaving them all in perfect shape. They have also applied thick coats of rust to the lawn-mower, the rakes and cultivators.

Mice Like Seeds
More than that, they have made friends with the mice, and given them guided tours to the packets of seeds which I laid on the tool shed shelves. Those seeds have kept our mice healthy and bouncy all winter long. Next season I shall tool them by putting my left-over seeds in glass or metal containers with tops screwed so tight even Kobolds can't open them.

But their most mischievous performance was with my prized pressure sprayer. Of course I must have emptied it out and lubricated it last fall, but I found that it was utterly and hopelessly clogged with a thick and lumpy solution resembling Bordeaux mixture but which apparently contains clay and emery. It took me most of a Saturday to get it back in shape.

The best way to lick Kobold trouble is by keeping a diary and I've already started a comprehensive one. Next fall I'll take special pains to put the tools away with a heavy grease covering and I'll make a note now to remind me of the job, which is not too pleasant.

Garden Plan
I've finished the garden plan, down to the last inch allocating of space, and as usual think I've bitten off a little more than I can chew. But the full garden, 125 by 50, is rich and perfect and I couldn't bear to think of any of it just going to weed.

Almost half the garden is given to the sheer luxury of corn. We can get along without it, but I look forward all winter and spring to the time I can walk out and pull enough ears for dinner, and have it on the table 10 minutes from the time it left the stalk. I make a kind of ritual about it, having the salted water boiling when I leave for the garden on a run.

I've always planted early, middle and late peas, because that's another luxury of a garden. They all go into the ground at the same time, of course, and mature at different times. I'm strictly in favor of brushing them, both to save space and to keep the vines and pods from rotting on the ground. Everyone writes about it, and I've found it to be true: peas are like a Spring tonic to the ground and my replacement plantings of beets and bush beans have always responded to their dose of nitrogen as though they'd been given vitamins.

Strawberries In Middle
For some reason I'll never be able to explain, I transplanted 50 strawberry plants (gifts) right smack into the middle of the garden last fall. They have absolutely no right to be there, but I plan to interplant with spinach because we'll get no strawberries from them until next year.

No vegetable garden should be without flowers. I'm giving the birds and the squirrels a treat by planting sunflower seeds at the west end of the garden—framing the corn—and scattering portulaca seeds here and there. I think

For some reason I'll never be able to explain, I transplanted 50 strawberry plants (gifts) right smack into the middle of the garden last fall. They have absolutely no right to be there, but I plan to interplant with spinach because we'll get no strawberries from them until next year.

No vegetable garden should be without flowers. I'm giving the birds and the squirrels a treat by planting sunflower seeds at the west end of the garden—framing the corn—and scattering portulaca seeds here and there. I think

Class Of 1933
Holds Reunion

The class of 1933 of the Escanaba high school held a class reunion at the Dells Thursday evening with 54 former classmates and their escorts attending. Anton Abel, toastmaster, welcomed the group. Each member gave a brief resume of his life in the last 14 years and introduced his wife, husband or escort. Communications from classmates unable to attend the reunion were read by Elveda Deloria Hansen and Doris Stimp Haglund.

A group of songs popular during 1930-1933 were sung to the accompaniment of Lillian Schram Finnman. Members who received roses, the class flower, for coming the longest distance were: Genevieve Povers and Francis Gustafson, California and Albert Hansen, Pensaukee, Wis.

Table decorations included spring flowers, roses and white candelabra. Dancing and discussions of old times followed the dinner.

Births
Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Schmeltzer are the parents of an eight pound and four ounce son born at St. Francis hospital Friday evening. The child will be named Tommy Richard. It is the first in the family. Mrs. Schmeltzer is the former Joyce Casey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Casey, Wells. It is the first grandchild in the Casey family and the first grandson in the A. J. Schmeltzer family.

Loose Covers
Encourage Rest
A bed should be unmade for restful sleeping, if it has been made up with tightly-tucked covers. Feet closely confined in an envelope of covers will try to escape, thus breaking into your sleep.

Covers rearranged for the serious business of sleeping should be loosened all around the bed and pulled free of the mattress at one side. The lower sheet, however, should be tucked tight again until it is as smooth as glass.

You'll sleep better, incidentally, if your blankets are a family of lightweights that are easy to peel off or pile on than if they are fever in number and heavier in weight. The more air that's allowed to circulate in your room, the more refreshed you will feel when you awake; so plan to open the windows and pile on the blankets.

If you have trouble popping off, try some form of heat therapy to coax relaxation before you go to bed. There are various homey types available to you.

One is a warm, sleep-lulling bath. This is one of the best and most dependable tension-chasers. But bath water must be neither too hot nor too cold—about body temperature is the best. Such a bath can be made more soporific if you'll toss into your tub a few tablespoons of mustard powder.

A few minutes' exposure under an ultra violet lamp is a sleep-inducer par excellence for some people. If there are constricted nerves at the back of the neck or other areas, the application of a heating pad helps to relieve tensions and woo sleep.

Heart Attack Is Fatal To Pioneer Perkins Resident

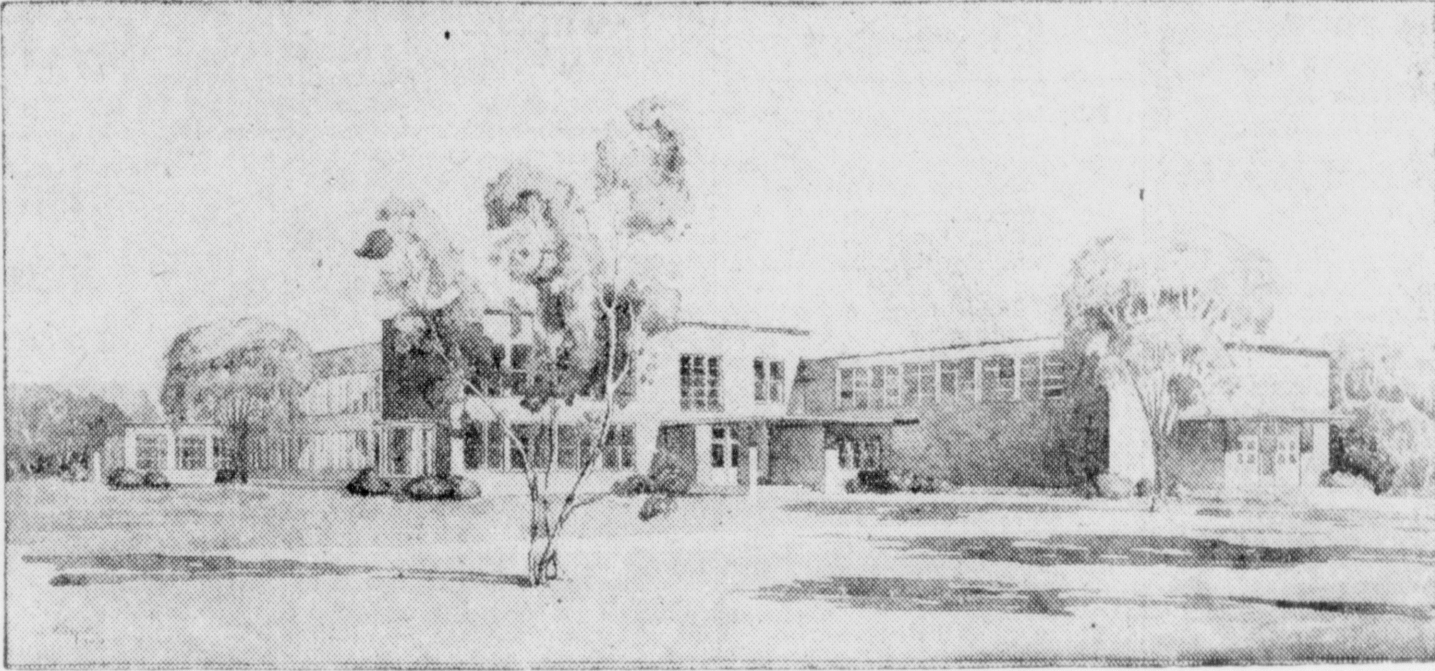

Mrs. Victor Sharkey, 81, wife of William Sharkey of Perkins, died at her home at 7:20 o'clock Friday morning. Her death, caused by a heart attack, came unexpectedly after only two hours' illness.

Mrs. Sharkey was born in Michigan January 12, 1865 and had been a resident of Perkins for 70 years, moving there with her parents, when she was a child. Her marriage took place in Perkins, at St. Joseph's church, May 2, 1887.

She was a member of St. Joseph's parish and of St. Anne's Altar society.

Surviving are her husband and eleven children: Miss Della Sharkey, at home; Mrs. Myrtle Cohan, Little Lake; Miss Lydia and Miss Nell, of Newberry; Mrs. William Cohan, Reedsville, Wis.; Mrs. Jacob Del Bello, Marquette; William Sharkey, Jr., of Perkins; and Vint, Walter, Theodore and Edward, of Munising; twenty-seven grandchildren; a son and two great-grandchildren; and four brothers, Selam Lancelot, of Osier; David, Manistowic; Edward, Chassell and Henry, Perkins.

The body will be removed from the Alto funeral home to the family home in Perkins this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's church in Perkins. Rev. Father Dion officiating and burial will be in Perkins cemetery.

POWERS-SPALDING PLANS HIGH SCHOOL—Here is an artist's sketch of the proposed new high school for the Powers-Spalding area, which will be constructed as soon as possible. The modern building will be built on a 24-acre site south of Highway US-2-41 between the villages of Powers and Spalding. Preparation of the site will be started next week, and it is hoped that construction on the building may be started this summer.

Americans Give Aid To British Church

London (AP)—A contribution to the upkeep of the parish church at Great Ashfield, a village in England's west Suffolk, has been made by the Pilgrim Trust, an American fund which aims at preserving any building with American associations.

The fund donated $4,000 to the church, which dates from Anglo-Saxon times. An American airfield was located nearby during the war and the church contains a memorial chapel to a United States airman who fell in the war.

New School Project May Be Started This Summer

Starting next week work will begin on the preparation of a 24-acre site between the villages of Powers and Spalding for the construction of a new Powers-Spalding high school as soon as it is financially and materially expedient, it was announced yesterday by Supt. William J. Sharon.

Since 1902 the Powers-Spalding high school has been housed in a two-story frame structure and annex for general shop and home economics. The proposed new high school will be modern in architectural design and will include all of the necessary facilities for both a high school and grade school.

School authorities and citizens of Spalding township, convinced that the present high school has outlived its usefulness, have voted to finance the construction of the new building. Last November the electors of the township voted an additional 20 mills over and above a 5 mill building and site fund, so that bonds could be floated in order to build as soon as possible.

The proposals were adopted by a 9 to 1 ratio by the voters. The 5 mill levy, now in its fifth year, will bring in a total of $25,000; while the 20 mills for five years will raise a total of $100,000.

Spalding township was one out of 14 in the United States to receive approval on a federal loan this year. It amounted to $5,000 for planning.

Architects Hubert and Gjelstein of Menominee have worked for some time on the plans with the Michigan planning commission who defray half the cost of the planning.

Several monetary and land donations have been contributed by local citizens when the project was proposed last fall. Availability, price, and choice of materials are the only obstacles preventing immediate construction. However, it is hoped that this will not hinder the progress of the project for long. Supt. Sharon said, "We are negotiating feelers with contractors on the possibility of getting started this summer," he added.

The board of education is composed of Russell Sergeant, president; Clem Sullivan, secretary; Alfred LeBeauf, treasurer, and Wallace Wells and Edward Veese, trustees.

The high school was recently placed on the University of Michigan accredited list.

The new building will be a combination high and grade school with a kitchen and six elementary classrooms. There will be a home economics department, large general shop, science room, library, and study hall, commercial suite, and standard class rooms for the high school.

The plan features a wing with a combination auditorium and gymnasium so arranged that it can be used independently of the remainder of the building. Complete locker, shower and toilet facilities are immediately adjacent to this area. A kitchen for hot lunches and P. T. A. meetings is also part of this area. The administrative suite is near the front entrance with a public office, superintendent's office, vault and health suite.

Toilets for both sexes are on both floors, centrally located.

Janitor's closets are provided on both floors. Book storage rooms are provided on both floors. Faculty male and female rest rooms and toilet facilities are on the second floor. The building can easily be enlarged by an extension toward the south. The above arrangement with its standard classrooms will be able to accommodate 70 to 100 more pupils in case of a possible greater enrollment in high school.

The plan also features built-in lockers in the corridors and adequate storage space in all classrooms, laboratories and shops.

Reinforced concrete frame, brick and cinder block walls with face brick exterior, steel joists, terrazzo floors in corridors, steel sash, aluminum sills, and the windows providing huge areas for light, are called for in construction plans.

Sea Diver Hopes To Salvage Gold Bars Sunk During War

(P) Newsfeatures

Auckland, New Zealand — A new bid is likely to be made to salvage the remaining 35 bars of gold valued at $24,000 from the wreck of the liner Niagara which was mined and sunk 30 miles north of Auckland during the war.

The noted Australian deep sea diver John Johnstone told reporters he hoped to make the salvage attempt in November, using a new one-man diving bell, which, he says, will be capable of descending 1,000 feet.

Johnstone took a prominent part in the original salvage of the Niagara's gold in 1941 when bullion worth $7,776,000 was recovered from the vessel at a depth of 438 feet.

The gold remaining in Niagara is the property of the Bank of England, which, according to reports published in New Zealand, has offered the salvage party half of any gold they retrieve.

Johnstone says that in his planned revisit to the Niagara he will use a grab that "will pick up a matchbox off the sea bottom."

A powerful battery-fed spotlight will pierce the gloom of the ocean bed, and a telephone will connect the diver with the salvage ship.

HOLDS MEETINGSees Much Work Ahead
Before Construction
Completed

Launching of a campaign to raise $100,000 by popular subscription in Schoolcraft county for construction of a community memorial hospital was the chief matter of business discussed at a meeting of the hospital committee at the directors' rooms of the First National bank Thursday evening.

At the first meeting of the committee since Monday's election the committee considered what lies ahead and agreed that the public must be kept informed of all details of the project.

The funds to be made available from the bond issue are about one-third of the funds needed for the hospital, it was pointed out.

A. J. Cayia, committee chairman, said it should be stressed that $100,000 must be raised by popular subscription before a corresponding amount from a federal grant will be allotted, and that an intensive campaign to raise this amount will have to be waged.

Acceptance of a plan and creation of a commission whose work will coordinate with the county board of supervisors will probably be the result of the meeting of the supervisors April 21. It is understood the hospital matter will be placed on the agenda of the supervisors on the second day of its meeting.

Harvey Quick, local resident, long active in Legion affairs, was endorsed for commander of the Fifth Zone of the American Legion.

He is a past commander and holder of numerous offices in the local post and past committee of the 12th district of the Legion. A committee will be named by George Morton, commander, to assist in the promotion of Quick's candidacy.

Among other important matters taken up at the meeting was the appointment of a committee to nominate officers for the coming year and action to send a boy to the Older Boys' Conference at Escanaba next week.

The matter of promotion of junior baseball activity was discussed, but definite action was deferred.

A MESSAGE TO ALL OUR CUSTOMERS

On Wednesday morning April 9th Mr. Walter Hansen, head adjuster of the Western Adjuster Co., examined the salvage stock from our fire of March 27th.

After six days were spent in attempting to salvage what could be salvaged, Mr. Hansen decided that it was impossible to salvage any merchandise here in Manistique, as facilities to dry out this stock were not available here. Mr. Hansen advised that the Underwriters Salvage Co. (a non-profit organization operated through insurance companies) should be called in as it was equipped to handle this work efficiently. This procedure was accepted by H. J. Lauerma who was present.

The personnel of this store had high hopes of selling this merchandise here in Manistique. It not only would have been a pleasure to sell to our customers at tremendous savings, but would have kept them employed.

We all regret this decision, but we also realize that it would be impossible to dry out this merchandise before it would mildew and be valueless.

PLAN HONORS
FOR WAR DEADLocal Legion Post To Promote Something
New In Memorials

In a resolution passed by the Manistique American Legion Post Thursday evening, the Upper Peninsula Association of American Legion Posts is requested to promote legislation calling for a suitable monument to be "provided by the United States government and placed beneath the flag of our country at the site of each post-office and that the name of every serviceman who paid the supreme sacrifice in time of war, be placed on this monument in his respective district."

Sponsors of this move, in presenting it before the local post called attention to the fact that a majority of the men who died in defending their country are forgotten except on Memorial Day and that the government property on which postoffices are built should rightfully be devoted in part as a memorial to those who died for their country.

The resolution will be presented for passage at the Fifth District convention in Menominee early this summer.

Radio In Review

By John Crosby

THE EASTER PARADE

NBC's broadcast of the Easter parade on Fifth Avenue in New York ought to serve as a warning to anyone who yearns to be an announcer. Stay out of radio, bub, or you might wind up in the same fix that confronted Ben Grauer last Sunday. Mr. Grauer was in an open car ornamented with one thousand tulips and Maggie McNellis, both according to Mr. Grauer, spectacularly beautiful. Shortly after the broadcast started, the car turned right on Fifth Avenue which Mr. Grauer described as the "most famous avenue in the world," a phrase which took quite a kicking around all day.

"Oh, it's a beautiful day," shouted by Mr. Grauer happily. "Here we are plump in the center of Fifth Avenue." For a few moments he spoke feelingly of the colorful crowds. He described Miss McNellis' hat with some assistance from Miss McNellis, who last year was voted the best-dressed woman in radio.

Then things started to go wrong. "No, please lady!" A note of alarm was evident in his voice. "Yes, thanks but . . . We're having a riot here. I'm not entirely sure what was going on but I gathered that a number of ladies were busily plucking the tulips from Mr. Grauer's car. "I'm sorry, madam . . . No, no, you can't. No, please! Driver would you go along, please."

It was too late, I gathered. Herb Sheldon, a fellow announcer who came along to help describe the parade, said: "Well, we lost our thousand tulips in about three seconds."

"Thousands of people wanted our lovely tulips," said Miss McNellis brightly.

Then Mr. Grauer and the NBC car ran into a traffic block. "Inspector," said Mr. Grauer, summing up all his charm, "could we go ahead there? We're from NBC . . . What? . . . Oh! . . . Oh, thank you, Inspector, thank you."

There was a hapless pause. "That was the voice of a high police official you just heard," said Mr. Grauer bitterly. "We have now turned off Fifth Avenue—at the request of the Police Department. I hope I'm still smiling."

The car proceeded east on Fifty-second street which Mr. Grauer for lack of anything else to do, described in considerable detail. "We're now in an eddy of the Easter parade. The Inspector—and all remember him lovingly this Easter—suggested we take our NBC car down a side street."

Soon the car was sailing down Madison Avenue. "We're now behind Saint Patrick's Cathedral," said Mr. Grauer helplessly. He gave a vivid description of the rear of St. Patrick's. Miss McNellis chimed in with a few historic notes about the old White-law Reid house across Madison from St. Patrick's. Mr. Grauer suggested it was a nice day. Miss McNellis, who sounded restive, described a beautiful blonde climbing into a taxi.

"She isn't wearing an Easter bonnet," said the best dressed lady in radio, who had been brought along especially to describe Easter bonnets. "In fact, she isn't wearing a hat at all."

"Maggie," said Mr. Grauer in desperation. "See that nice policeman with the nice Easter smile? Well, smile back at him and see if he'll open that lane for us."

I could visualize Maggie smiling prettily and determinedly at the cop. "We're trying to get back to Fifth Avenue," Mr. Grauer explained to his unseen audience. He needn't have bothered. By this time we had forgotten all about the Easter parade and were caught up in the drama of the thing. Would Mr. Grauer get back to Fifth Avenue? Would Miss McNellis get a chance to describe a hat?

Apparently the cop yielded to

Wins First Place
In Munciam Contest

Munising — A six-month-old baby in a bushel basket photographed by Miss Lucille Buckley of the Munciam camera club took first place in the advanced amateur picture contest held Thursday evening.

Subject for Miss Buckley's winning photo was Kathleen Lanierman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lanterman, East Superior street.

Second place in that group went to Club President William Niles, who entered a picture snow scene of the Anna river.

In the beginner's amateur competition, John Korpela received first place with his print of a winding section of the AuTrain river and Mrs. Lucille Strom was given second place for the picture of her two children, Jean and Tommy, seated at a small table painting Easter eggs.

Judges were E. J. Erickson, chairman; Emil Peterson, Miss Patricia Mellon and Miss Mable Johnson.

Winning photos will be on display in the window of Putvin's City drug store.

During the business session, club members decided to change the schedule of club night from the present rotated system Monday through Thursday every two weeks to the first and third Tuesday of every other week. The next meeting will be held April 21.

Neal Boucher gave a demonstration of developing of prints as the educational feature of the evening.

Students To Meet
Here For Forensic
Contest April 17

Munising — Six dramatic declamations, four oratorical declamations, and two orations are scheduled to be presented at the District Michigan High School Forensic association contest to be held at the Munising high school, Thursday, April 17. Schools participating here will be: Chatham, Rock, and Munising.

Miss Hazel Jenswold, contest director, announced yesterday that the dramatic declamations will be held at 4 p. m., and the oratorical declamations and orations will be held at 7:30. Winners in each contest will compete in the regional contest in May.

Individual participants in the contest will be:

Dramatic declamations: Lester Bazinet, "Another Spring"; Virginia Bonner, "The Heart of Old Hickory"; Sally Gattiss, "Yellow Butterflies"; Mary Larson, "In Rebecca's Room"; Gladys Lindquist, "The Inconceivable"; Mary Jane Main, "The White Hands of Tolman."

Oratorical declamations: Dawn Fraser, "Without a Song"; Lorraine Gerou, "Whose Responsibility?"; Bernice Samanen, "What Have We to Live For?"; Mildred Faden, "Angels Only."

Oratory: Alice Laakso, "Assignment for America"; Mildred Lampl, "To a Great Trooper — FDR."

Music will be presented by a Mather high school chorus and band ensemble during the contest program.

ATTEND SCHOOL

Munising—A. M. Stebler, biologist at the Cusino Game Refuge and his assistant, Vernon Gunvalson, will attend a conservation school for staff instruction at Higgins Lake, April 13.

Mr. Gunvalson, a recent appointee to the Cusino Refuge, came here from the University of Minnesota.

Each year the U. S. uses 6,000,000 pounds of vegetable oils and 6,000,000,000 pounds of animal fats in foods and industry.

Miss McNellis, for a moment later Mr. Grauer shouted: "Now we're heading west on Fortieth street. People are waving at us. Now we're back on Fifth Avenue, right in the heart of Fifth Avenue." He sounded like Ronald Coleman when he finally got back to Shangri-La.

It was a brilliant but short-lived triumph because the fifteen minutes were up. "This has been a broadcast of the Fifth Avenue Easter parade," said the announcer, stretching a point. "This is Ben Grauer returning you to NBC, the National Broadcasting Company."

Oh well, you can hear a description of the Easter parade any year. This one was different.

Policies Of Local
Red Cross Chapter
Discussed Thursday

Munising — The formulation of definite policies to be followed by the Alger county chapter Red Cross constituted the main issue of discussion at the meeting of newly elected chapter officers Thursday evening.

One of the results of the meeting was the establishment of a new date for the board of directors' meetings—the second Thursday of every other month.

Other business of the meeting was the appointment of Walter Corey and Frank Fleming, officers in the chapter, as a committee to contact the city commission on the advisability of hiring a certified Red Cross life guard for the coming swimming season at the local beach.

At present, the local chapter contemplates sponsoring a youth of the community to attend a water safety school in Ludington, Mich., June 18. Upon completion of this school, the youth would be qualified to take the job as life guard at the beach. It was reported.

Selection of the person to attend the school would be placed in the hands of the local swimming instructor at the high school, the chapter chairman said.

Has Narrow Escape
When Hit By Auto

Allan "Tod" Newman had a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday noon when he was hit by an auto driven by "Butch" Waeghe on Michigan avenue near 11th street.

Newman, Gladstone grade school pupil, had just been released from school and with a playmate had started a game of tag when the mishap occurred. He ran across the street and into the Waeghe auto despite the driver's efforts to avoid striking him, it is reported.

Newman was placed in Waeghe's auto and taken to the office of a local physician. An examination revealed no broken bones. He had a severe bruise on one leg and contusions on the other and suffered from shock. He was "resting comfortably" at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Newman, 1316 Wisconsin avenue, yesterday afternoon.

Robinson Hitless, But Bats In Three Runs And Plays 1st Flawlessly In Doger Debut

BY JOE REICHLER

Brooklyn, April 11 (AP)—Jackie Robinson, negro Brooklyn infielder, had the unique distinction of batting in three runs and plays to the plate in his major league debut today as his Dodgers mates humbled the New York Yankees, 14-6, in the first of a three-game week-end exhibition series.

The flashy Montreal alumnus, trying desperately to answer the pleas of 24,237 Ebbets Field fans for a base knock, managed to connect solidly twice, flying out to deep left in the third and lining out to center in a wild 11-man fifth inning. Each time a man scored easily from third after the catch.

14 Without A Bobble

A total of 15 Dodgers batted in the fifth, six hitting safely, three reaching base via walks and two on a pair of errors by Shortstop Phil Rizzuto.

Robinson, stationed at first base by Acting Manager Clyde Sukeforth, handled 14 chances flawlessly. They were all of the easy variety. He played through the entire nine innings.

"I plan to give Robinson a thorough trial at first base," Sukeforth said before the game. "If he fails to make it, he will be used in a utility role either at second, short or third. I am satisfied he can play any of the infield positions."

Four Yanks Hammered

Robinson's mates more than made up for his mediocre showing at the plate by hammering four Yankee pitchers, including aces Floyd Bevens and Chandler, for 16 hits. Catcher Bruce Edwards was the most prolific batter, belting four hits including a double.

Stan Rojek, filling in for the ailing Pee-wee Reese at shortstop, smashed three safe blows and scored as many runs.

Johnny Lindell, Joe Di Maggio's replacement at center, paced the Yankees' nine-hit attack with a triple and a booming two-run homer.

N. Y. (A) 010 020 201—6 9 5 Brkn (N) 201 01 000x—14 16 2 Bevens, Russo (4), Murphy (5), S. Chandler (6) and Houk, A. Robinson (4); Hatten, Head (4), E. Chandler (8) and Edwards.

CORNELL SETS AAU MAT PACE

More Than 150 Seek National Titles At San Francisco

San Francisco, April 11 (AP)—Amateur mat men from Cornell college, Mt. Vernon, Iowa, set the pace with a trio of victories today in the opening of 1947 National AAU wrestling championships.

More than 150 entrants, including seven defending national titleholders, took over the two rings in the San Francisco Olympic club for two days of wrestling which ends in the championship finals for all weights tomorrow night.

Cornell's squad included the Lang brothers, both of whom scored victories.

Lowell Lang, defending 135-pound champion, rang up his 76th consecutive mat win when he threw Bill Boldman of Washington State college to open the 135-pound preliminaries. He disposed of Boldman in 3 minutes 15 seconds.

Kent Lang demolished Wilfred LaRock of the Ithaca (NY) YMCA in a 155-pound preliminary. Leo Thomsen, Cornell college 128-pounder, threw Roy Hutchison of the Salem (Ore.) YMCA in 5 minutes 24 seconds.

Zale-Graziano Title Scrap Practically Chased To Chicago

New York, April 11 (AP)—The State Athletic commission today just about chased the highly-touted Tony Zale-Rocky Graziano middleweight title fight—and its expected half-million-dollar gate—out of New York and into Chicago.

The August fight fathers flatly turned down Graziano's application for his boxing license, which was revoked two months ago because of failure to report a $100,000 "fix" offer he said he thought was a joke. And immediately Rocky's manager, Irving Cohen, explained "there doesn't seem anything else to do but take the fight to Chicago."

Illini Top Missouri In NAAU Water Polo

New York, April 11 (AP)—The top seeded Illinois A. A. team of Chicago, paced the field into the semifinals of the national A.A.U. indoor water polo championships today by defeating the Missouri A. A. St. Louis, 11-9, in the New York Athletic club pool.

Harold Dash, with three goals, was top man for the victors, who captured the title the last three times out—the last year being 1941 when the competition was discontinued. Harry J. Queensen did most of the losers' scoring, accounting for seven tallies.

'Husband Leo Was Wronged' Laraine Says

Los Angeles, April 11 (AP)—Laraine Day, winsome and—for a change—chatty with the press, returned today from the east to charge that her Leo had been wronged.

Husband (everywhere but in California) Leo Durocher is under suspension for the 1947 season from his job as manager of Brooklyn's Dodgers, outgrowth of a dispute involving the Dodgers and the New York Yankees.

Miss Day, stepping from a plane from New York, called Commissioner A. E. (Happy) Chandler's suspension "terribly unfair."

"Leo Was Condemned"

"Leo," she added, "was condemned without a hearing and denied the right of appeal."

Leo himself, as one of the principals, is under a Chandler order of silence about the matter. The garrulous, umpire-baiting pilot, however, told his side at hearings before Chandler prior to the latter's edict.

Miss Day—who drew the ire of California courts by eloping and marrying Leo only a day after her divorce there, which won't be final until next January—has been avoiding mass interviews with the press when she was with Leo. He has guided her, running, through the ranks of waiting reporters time and again, yelling "no comment" to the press. But today Laraine graciously stood, hugging her adopted son, Christopher Hendricks, 2nd, answering questions.

Of course not! Christopher was adopted before her divorce from J. Ray Hendricks, Santa Monica airport manager. Asked if Leo's current difficulties had changed things between them, she replied:

"People just don't fall in and out of love in a hurry."

Chicago, April 11 (AP)—Sixty stars from 15 schools will compete tomorrow in the third annual National Collegiate Athletic Association fencing championships at Bartlett gymnasium, University of Chicago. Individual championships will be decided in three weapons, foil, epee and sabre, with round-robin eliminations scheduled to trim the field to six finalists in each division.

The Sports Parade

BY Jim Ward

April, 1947, will go down in national sports history as the "month of suspensions and irregularities," not only in the so-called great national pastime, baseball, but in other sports as well, including tennis, hockey and basketball.

In the limelight, of course, is the celebrated "Taffaire Durocher," whose name—calling "tough" guy antics (he doesn't want any nice guys on his team)—now he hasn't got a team—and marital difficulties involving the sweet-faced Laraine Day in a flight to Mexico to escape the California divorce law finally culminated in his suspension from professional baseball for the entire 1947 season.

Escanaba Junior Baseball League Organized Today

Young baseball players, team captains, managers, sponsors and all persons interested in baseball are invited to attend the Escanaba junior baseball meeting to be held in the city recreation building from 10 a. m. until noon today.

The league is for all players up to and including 17 years of age. At today's session, teams will be lined up, captains and officers named and players will be assigned to teams.

Any sports loving citizen of the community desiring to serve as umpire for the junior season is asked to attend. The schedule will be drawn.

D. A. Investigating Fight Racketeering

New York, April 11 (AP)—Tami Mauriello, New York heavy-weight who was knocked out in a round by Joe Louis last September, was questioned for an hour today by Assistant District Attorney Alfred Scott who has been investigating undercover fight managers with racket and criminal backgrounds.

Scott also revealed that yesterday he questioned Henry Armstrong, only man in ring history ever to hold three world championships simultaneously—the featherweight, lightweight and welterweight crowns. Scott said he had talked with several other fighters, as well.

Since his fight with Louis, Mauriello signed up with a new manager.

Scott, head of the District Attorney's Racket Bureau, announced he was resuming his investigation of boxing after a six-week lull.

MICHIGAN NINE SHUT OUT
Lexington, Va., April 11 (AP)—Washington and Lee University's baseball team shut out Michigan, 4-0, today behind the three-hit pitching of Ligon. W&L collected only five hits, but five Michigan errors contributed to the scoring. The game was scoreless through three innings but W&L counted three runs in the fourth and the last tally in the seventh.

WOLVERINE GOLFERS LOSE
Durham, N. C., April 11 (AP)—North Carolina's golfers defeated Michigan's Big Nine defending Champions here this afternoon over the Hope Valley course, 17 to 10.

Harvie Ward, Jr., of Carolina, turned in a one over par 71 to win low individual medal honors. Dave Barkley shot a 73 for the visitors' best individual round.

Ice cream sundaes at first were sold only on Sunday, which gave them their name.

Skunks are a favorite food among many Canadian Indian tribes.

Well, so it goes. Maybe they should put up a Lady Byng trophy for sportsmanship in baseball, as in hockey.

That would be something for Durocher to shoot at when he makes his comeback next season.

O'NEILL NAMES TIGE STARTERS

Hal Newhouser Will Hurl In Detroit Opener Tuesday

Louisville, Ky., April 11 (AP)—The starting line-up for the Detroit Tigers 1947 American league opener against the Browns at St. Louis Tuesday was ticked off here today by Manager Steve O'Neill, and except for the first base position vacated by big Hank Greenberg, it might have been last year's roster.

O'Neill decided to start outfielder Roy Cullenbine on first base in preference over the well-thought-of newcomer, George Vico. But he was quick to point out that Vico is prominent in his plans for the new season.

Otherwise, it's last year's line-up: Eddie Lake ss; George Keil, 3b; Dick Wakefield, lf; Hoot Evers, cf; Eddie Mayo 2b; Pat Mullin, rf; Birdie Tebbetts, c, and on the mound, Lefty Hall Newhouser, reportedly in top shape.

O'Neill announced the line-up as the Detroit club arrived here for a three-game series with the Louisville Colonels of the American Association that will wind up the 32-game spring schedule for the Tigers.

Tonight's game with the Colonels was postponed by rain.

Local Lions Host To U. P. Clubs For Bowling Tournament

Munising—The Upper Peninsula Lions' club bowling tournament will be held in Munising on the Bay Shore alleys, April 20-27, William Belfry, local club member and chairman of arrangements, announced yesterday.

Lions clubs in the peninsula may enter any number of teams they desire, the only limitation being placed on members of the teams being bona fide Lions. ABC bowlers may obtain special permission to allow them to bowl on a club team, he stated.

All entries must be in at the local headquarters prior to April 14, it was announced. Clubs are requested to send necessary information for entrance to William Belfry, Munising.

It is expected 30 clubs will enter the tournaments.

Flailor Billy Fox On Comeback Trail

New York, April 11 (AP)—Billy Fox, the Philadelphia flailor with the fight game's all-time knockout record, started up the lightweight comeback trail tonight by stopping the durable New York Barber, Georgia Kochan, in the seventh round of a ten-round in St. Nicholas arena. Fox weighed 175½; Kochan 177½.

Making his first start since his knockout by Champion Gus Lesnevich in a title bid five weeks ago—which ended his run of 43 straight knockouts in his professional career—the tan thumper from the Quaker City came off the floor from a first round knockdown and recovered from two cut eyes before catching up with Kochan at 2:12 of the seventh round.

With Kochan trying to get up from his second knockdown in half-a-minute, Referee Johnny Byrne stepped in and halted the proceedings.

ROUMAN STARTS OUTDOOR WORK

50 Seek Positions; First Meet May 10 In Manistique

In preparation for the busy month of May when the Eskymos will compete in four track meets on four successive weekends, the Escanaba high school track team began outdoor workouts this week at the field adjacent to the track.

Approximately 50 athletes, including six lettermen from last year's squad, have been going through limbering-up exercises under the watchful eye of Coach Jim Rouman, who with Henry Wylie, will guide the destiny of the Eskymo trackmen this season.

Local track meets will compete in the Manistique invitational May 10, the district meet in Menominee May 17, the U. P. championship event here May 24 and the Upper Peninsula relays here in the Memorial day classic on May 30.

Stock Has Gone Up
Whether Coach Rouman will have a team capable of wrestling the U. P. title away from the Ironwood squad, which won it from the Eskymos by half a point in Houghton last spring, remains to be seen. One encouraging fact, however, is that 50 trackmen are going through their paces instead of only 37, who answered the first paper call.

Lettermen on the squad are Don Biehler, 880; Jim Hinn, pole vault; Roland McDonough, 880; Jack Peterson, who cavorts in the 100, 220, low hurdles and the relays; Bill Smith, 440 man, and Gus Anderson, another quarter-miler.

To this talented crew can be added the name of one Robert Ostrom, formerly of Rapid River, where he won the Class D mile event in the U. P. title event last spring. He has transferred to Escanaba high school and will be given a track suit without hesitation when the proper time comes to hand out the garments.

Then It Rained
Ostrom was a student in Escanaba high school before transferring to Rapid River because his parents moved there. He returned here last fall and was an outstanding performer in cross country running.

Outdoor workouts were held Wednesday afternoon and yesterday afternoon. Thursday's rain drove the trackmen indoors, but granted a favorable nod from Old Sol, they'll be working outdoors from now on.

Others on the squad are Bob Anderson, Gary Abrahamson, Gerald Baker, Edward Baker, Jim Benard, John Beaumier, Ernie Belanger, Ken Carlson, Bob Carter, Don Christensen, Frank Degeneffe, Paul Dufresne, Dick Freeman and Dave Friets.

Tom Swifts Wind Up Season In Twin Bill Here Tonight Against Vets, Manistique

The fast Bark River Tom Swifts, already weighted down with three championships and a record of 45 victories against only three defeats this season, will wind up their busy schedule at the Escanaba junior high school gym with a doubleheader tonight against the Veterans of Foreign Wars at 7:30 and the Manistique Hubs at 8:30.

Both are Northern Lakes league games. The Swifts already have salted away the Northern title, as well as championships in the Escanaba "A" invitation tournament and the Hermansville Gold Medal meet. They also won third in the Marinette invitation event.

In Northern Lakes competition, Manager Stanley Jensen's cohorts have posted 11 triumphs against a solitary loss. Although tonight's games have no bearing on the Northern title chase, the Swifts are set to go all out to run their league string to 13, Manager Jensen declared yesterday.

Swift starters tonight will be Roy Johnson and Ed Gauthier, forwards; big Bob Ranguette, center, and Bob Anderson and Tom Dufour, guards. Jim Kessler and Mickey Kuchenberg, VFW luminaries who starred in the game against Hermansville Silver Foxes here this week, will see what they can do about stopping the Swift attack, and Dick Berger will lead the Manistique Hubs into action.

Dick Schram, Escanaba, will officiate both games.

Women's Bowling Team Meets Men's Five Here Sunday

Manistique, April 11.—The "Sure Strikes," a ladies' bowling organization here, which has had a very successful season, has accepted the challenge of the Eskberg's Tavern, a men's team, for a match at LaFolles alleys Sunday afternoon.

The "Sure Strikes" recently won over two top notch men's teams—Christy's Bar and Blatz Finlanders—and are anxious to make it three in a row.

On the Eskberg team are Harry LaFolles, John Ott, Dick Abrahamson, Maurice Ekberg and Dale.

The "Sure Strike" team is made up of Bats' Carpenter, Helen Gentry, Pat Kasun, Lyle LaMourie and Glenadine Weber.

RICHARD SUSPENDED
Montreal, April 11 (AP)—Montreal's crippled Canadiens suffered another blow today when President Charles Campbell of the National Hockey League suspended Maurice (The Rocket) Richard for one game and fined the high-scoring rightwinger $250 for his display of temper in last night's Stanley Cup playoff game against the Toronto Maple Leafs here.

COLLEGE BASEBALL
Ohio State 3 Wisconsin 2.

Bob Nault, Dick Nelson, Charles Fokos, Jerry Paterick, Howard Perron, Francis Papingaw, Art Roberts, Leonard Swed, Gerald St. Martin, Wayne Sundquist, Bob Urbach, Ted Gardner, Dave Walsh and John Watts.

Baseball practice has been postponed until the start of next week. The Eskymos plan to compete in 10 games this season, home-and-home with five nearby high school teams. Uniforms already have been ordered and are expected to be here soon.

Big Nine Cage Slate Drafted Tomorrow
Chicago, April 11 (AP)—The Big Nine's 1947-48 conference basketball schedule will be drafted here Sunday at a meeting of league coaches. The schedule will be the same as last season, except for a reversal of game sites, which each team playing 12 games, six at home and six away.

Each member will play four other conference teams in a home-and-home basis and meets the four other schools in single encounters, two of them at home and two away.

RABSON WRITES ON EDUCATION

Adult School Program Praised By Noted Economist

By ROGER W. BARSON

Eureka, Kans.—I shall be glad to see city school boards get more money, although statistically the city firemen—and especially the fire chiefs—need it more. This demand for increased wages by different groups—from miners to milliners—will continue until the dust comes. Then many will have no jobs and we must start over again.

When, however, the politicians demand more money for schools "in order to make young people more efficient and solve juvenile problems", this is the bunk. Until young people want to learn, they won't learn; when they do want to learn the best education is freely at their service. Education and religion are the hope of democracy; but just now most people are impervious to good ideas, immune to wise advice and hard-boiled on every front.

People are getting information by newspapers, radio and movies; but not wisdom and self-control. These latter are spiritual qualities which we get only by our mother's knees, or on our own knees. We question the crude dogma of the old fashioned revivalists; but they have changed more lives for the better than have all the school committees of America. Whether people can't learn or won't learn, I do not know; but I am very sure that spending more tax money on schools will not solve juvenile delinquency.

Children Need Work

This present howl for more money for schools as a solution to our social troubles reminds me of the other cure-alls which have been offered during my day. When I started in business, F. R. Roosevelt was busting the Trusts as a cure-all. Great fights resulted in dissolving the Tobacco Trust, the Standard Oil Trust and the Railroad Trusts. Yet, after these popular movements were put over, the cost of tobacco, oil and freight was higher than ever. Woman's suffrage, Prohibition and the New Deal were all tried with good intentions; but with what results?

If more money will get us more conscientious and devoted school teachers, well and good; but it won't. Our schools are too imbedded in local politics. Gymnasiums, school bands, basketball and the other extra-curricular stuff, does not make wiser children. It would do far more good to relax the laws now preventing the employment of children during vacation. Moreover, minimum wage laws should not apply to any under 21 years of age. Young people learn mostly through applying their knowledge. MORE work is what they need. Let's return to the apprentice system.

Adult Education

This brings me to the subject of adult education. The brain is much like the blood. As the blood can absorb only so much vitamin, so the brain can absorb only so much knowledge. Hence, education will be improved, not by spending more money on present high schools, but by encouraging more self-supporting adult courses and serving people when they finally want to learn something.

The greatest opportunity facing school committees lies with adult education, given to people who have awakened to the need of more education and are hungry for it. This is why the new College which I am backing at Eureka, Kansas, (the geographical center of the U.S.) is solely for adults. It will give short intensive Five-Week Courses for adults, but only in the subjects for which they have found the need and are hungry.

Conclusion

To Teachers: Follow union labor and get all you can while the going is good. To Parents: Don't fool yourselves by thinking that more money spent upon schools will make better boys and girls. Rather spend money and time to make your homes more attractive. To Churches: Most of us know enough; our difficulty is that we lack self-control to apply what we know. Self-control comes after a rebirth due either to sad experiences or to spiritual conversions. Rehabilitate the Churches, Sunday Schools and bring back some evangelism. Education and Religion must go hand-in-hand or both fail.

FAR-REACHING BILL OUTLAW'S CLOSED SHOPS

local unions and single employers. The outlawing of industry-wide bargaining is part of a broad new House bill intended to curb strikes and unions.

The Senate labor committee, starting through a milder bill section by section, took no conclusive action.

In addition to the industry-wide bargaining provision, the House committee also approved parts of the bill which would:

Outlaw various kinds of strikes, like jurisdictional tie-ups. For the most part these are brought on by disputes between two unions over the right to do a certain job. Forbid secondary boycotts, in which employees refuse to handle the products or supplies of a company with which they have no direct squabble but with which some other union does.

Make mass picketing and violence on picket lines illegal.

Ban "featherbedding" strikes to make an employer hire or pay for more employees than he needs or pay assessments to a union. Members said this is aimed partly at James C. Petrillo and the ALF Musicians Union.

Debate Next Tuesday

Violations of all these sections would be punishable under the anti-trust laws, by damage suits, and by suspension of a union's collective bargaining rights for a year.

Another accepted provision would take bargaining privileges from a union which has a Communist or Communist sympathizer as an officer, or anybody who "can reasonably be regarded" as one.

Chairman Hartley (R-N.J.) reported no more than four votes against any one portion of the bill.

The committee plans final approval of the measure tomorrow. On Monday it will ask the rules committee to set the procedure under which the measure will be considered by the House.

A conference of all House Republicans will inspect the bill afterward.

Debate on the floor is scheduled Tuesday. Hartley hopes for passage Thursday or Friday.

Ding Dong Daddy Who Wed 13 Freed From San Quentin

San Francisco, April 11 (AP)—Short and plump Francis Van Wie, 39-year-old street car conductor known as the "ding dong daddy of the car line" during his merry trial, was released from San Quentin prison today after serving two years of a 30-year term levied on three counts of bigamy.

He won his freedom on a good behavior record and a plea for leniency by the judge who passed sentence.

Van Wie, who in court admitted to having had 13 wives, planned to confer with his attorney to determine his marital status. The lawyer, James Toner, said he thought all of Van Wie's wives have obtained divorces or annulments and that his client was starting with a "clean slate."

Leftist Cabinet Quits In Finland After Hectic Year

Helsinki, Finland, April 11 (AP)—Premier Mauno Pekkala and his strongly Leftist cabinet resigned today after more than a year in office as a result of domestic economic and political difficulties.

The government was a coalition of six members from the Communist-dominated Peoples Democratic Union, five social Democrats, five Agrarians and one member of the Swedish Peoples party and was believed to have enjoyed the confidence of the Soviet Union.

The resignation came as a result of two-months dissension over the steadily rising cost of living and simultaneous demands for higher wages. The Peoples Democratic Union had demanded that wage controls be cancelled and price controls tightened.

Second Anniversary Of Roosevelt Death Is Observed Today

Hyde Park, N. Y., April 11 (AP)—Visitors from many parts of the nation will gather tomorrow before the portico of the old Roosevelt family home to commemorate the second anniversary of the death of their wartime leader, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Fifteen minutes of the program will be broadcast over three national networks (NBC, ABC, MBS) at 3:30 p. m. (CST).

President Truman will speak from Kansas City. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and former treasury secretary Henry Morgenthau will broadcast from Hyde Park.

Defendant Loses, But Still Wins

Danville, Va. (AP)—The defendant was guilty and Magistrate Calvin Berry showed no mercy—imposing $32.70 in fines and costs.

The defendant—the city of Danville—didn't ask for mercy. It was guilty of violating its own ordinance because it failed to remove snow from in front of public buildings.

Court attaches said it was the most impersonal prosecution they had ever known. The fine and costs were carefully paid out of the city treasury into the city treasury.

APPLE BLOSSOM QUEEN—Climaxing a series of interesting announcements about this year's fete, Tom Baldrige, Director General of the 20th Edition of Virginia's famed Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival which will be held May 1 and 2 in Winchester, revealed today that this year's queen would be beautiful Jean Cartwright Lane, daughter of Maryland Governor and Mrs. William Preston Lane.

The queen, who is a resident of Hagerstown, Maryland, when not at Vassar attending school, lives with her parents and sister, Dorothy Byron Lane at Government House, the official Governor's mansion at Annapolis. Like nearby Winchester, Hagerstown is surrounded by thousands of apple trees of a number of choice varieties.

Jean is a true Maryland beauty with a winning smile and a pleasing personality. The 1947 Apple Blossom Queen elect has light brown hair, eyes that are blue and is almost five feet and four inches tall.

Pennsylvania Has 12th Mine Death Within 36 Hours

Exeter, Pa., April 11 (AP)—Eastern Pennsylvania today counted its 12th anthracite mine death within 36 hours.

Adolph Gergel, 26-year-old war veteran who survived the campaigns in Africa, Sicily and Italy, was killed under a coal fall at Reskrow.

Using picks and shovels, rescue crews recovered the body of 58-year-old Alex Malakowski who was buried in a mine roof collapse 1,300 feet below the surface at Locust Gap. Hunt continued for another victim, Monroe Reitz, 54, second member of his family to die in a mine within two months.

The state, meantime, set up a committee to investigate a gas explosion which yesterday killed nine men in a Knox Coal company mine here. A report was promised within two weeks.

CALIFORNIA HOT

Los Angeles, April 11 (AP)—A record-breaking 92 degrees brought an early summer to Southern California today and set the stage for a week-end exodus packing the beaches.

The year's previous high was 90, registered March 25. Nearby Glendale had a high of 96.

Hell Driver Held In Chicago Wreck

Chicago, April 11 (AP)—James W. Sword, 22-year-old stunt man who smashes speeding cars into brick walls and blazing fires for a living, was charged today with reckless driving after he was involved in an unscheduled traffic collision. His 10-year old car was wrecked.

Sword, as usual, emerged from the debris uninjured. Police said the car belonged to Frisky's Hell Drivers of Hollywood, Calif., and that Sword was en route to Columbus, O., to participate in a daredevil show.

BURGGLARS SMASH EGGS

Hagerstown, April 11 (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Lester Isanogle believes it was just plain frustration that led thieves who broke into a large Super Market here during the night to smash hundreds of dozens of eggs on the floor and against the walls.

After going to great lengths to force their way into the store, their total cash loot was $1.61.

tracted interest of those involved in the situation here:

1. The arrest and arraignment at Newark, N. J., of three women telephone strike leaders on a charge of violating the state new release in bail of $500 each. The law provides these penalties: For individuals, up to $500 fine and 30 days imprisonment for each day of violation; for unions, fines of $10,000 per day.

2. Approval by the House Labor Committee of labor bill provisions to outlaw industry-wide bargaining, jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts by unions. The committee already had voted a ban on the closed shop.

Suspect Is Freed In Hatchet Slayer Case At Detroit

Detroit, April 11 (AP)—Michigan's long series of investigations into the unsolved hatchet-slaying of well-to-do Mrs. Lydia Thompson took a new turn today.

State Attorney General Eugene F. Black announced a Detroit court would be asked to dismiss murder charges against Stanley Anculewicz, 33-year-old pots and pans salesman.

Indictments from Circuit Judge George B. Murphy's one-man grand jury laid Mrs. Thompson's mysterious slaying to her husband, Louis, 48; his second wife, Helen, 39, and Anculewicz.

All three protested innocence of the bizarre slaying, which baffled investigators at its occurrence 18 months ago.

Anculewicz, married and father of three children, claimed he fabricated a melodramatic story of murdering Mrs. Thompson so that he could frighten a woman acquaintance into breaking off their relationship.

The woman, Mrs. Laura Riddle, 31, has been held in $25,000 bond as a material witness. The grand jury said her story brought about the arrest of Anculewicz.

Wets And Drys Talk Over Legislation On Drinking By Minors

Lansing, April 11 (AP)—Representatives of "wet" and "dry" organizations agreed today to support pending legislation placing on minors part of the legal responsibility if they obtain liquor by misrepresenting their ages.

Conferring with Governor Sigler, the group withdrew some objections to that plan which had been advanced in previous legislative sessions and which had the wide support of liquor licensees. The latter contended that the licensee who attempted to eliminate minors from his place of business should not bear the entire onus of violating the law.

"Wet" interests urged the adoption of a state-wide card or form system for adults who appear to be too young to buy liquor. Local card systems have not worked too well in all instances and do not cover rural areas surrounding municipalities, they argued.

Clay Sewer Pipe Production Is Cut Off By Walkout

Uhrichsville, O., April 11 (AP)—A strike of approximately 2,700 workers today halted operations in 22 plants that manufacture from 30 to 60 per cent of the nation's clay sewer pipe.

Clyde Myers, business agent for the AFL-United Brick and Clay Workers of America, set the figure at 60 per cent, but Edward Hillier, vice president of one of the struck companies, Clay City Pipe Co., said it was about 30 per cent.

The Clay companies, located in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana, manufacture sewer pipe, hot tops, flue liners and fittings, with some 85 per cent of production devoted to pipe.

The walkout early today followed the collapse of negotiations in Akron on a new contract. Myers said the union was asking a 12-cent hourly pay boost and any amount above that received by the CIO-Steel-Workers, and other concessions.
